Alma Mater

*Alma Mater, dear old Millsaps,
Loyal sons are we;
Our fond hearts are thine alone
And ever more shall be.
Proud art thou in classic beauty
Of thy noble past;
With thy watchword, Honor, Duty,
Thy high fame shall last.*

*Ev'ry student man and maiden,
Swell the glad refrain,
Till the breezes, music-laden,
Waft it back again.
Proud art thou in classic beauty
Of thy noble past;
With thy watchword, Honor, Duty,
Thy high fame shall last.*

Foreword

FOREVER can not be spent in college walls—no matter how pleasant the life may be; but an effort can be made to preserve in some form a reminder which will last with life. Some particular thing can be attempted which, if done well, will stand as the best that can be offered the Alma Mater. In planning this, the

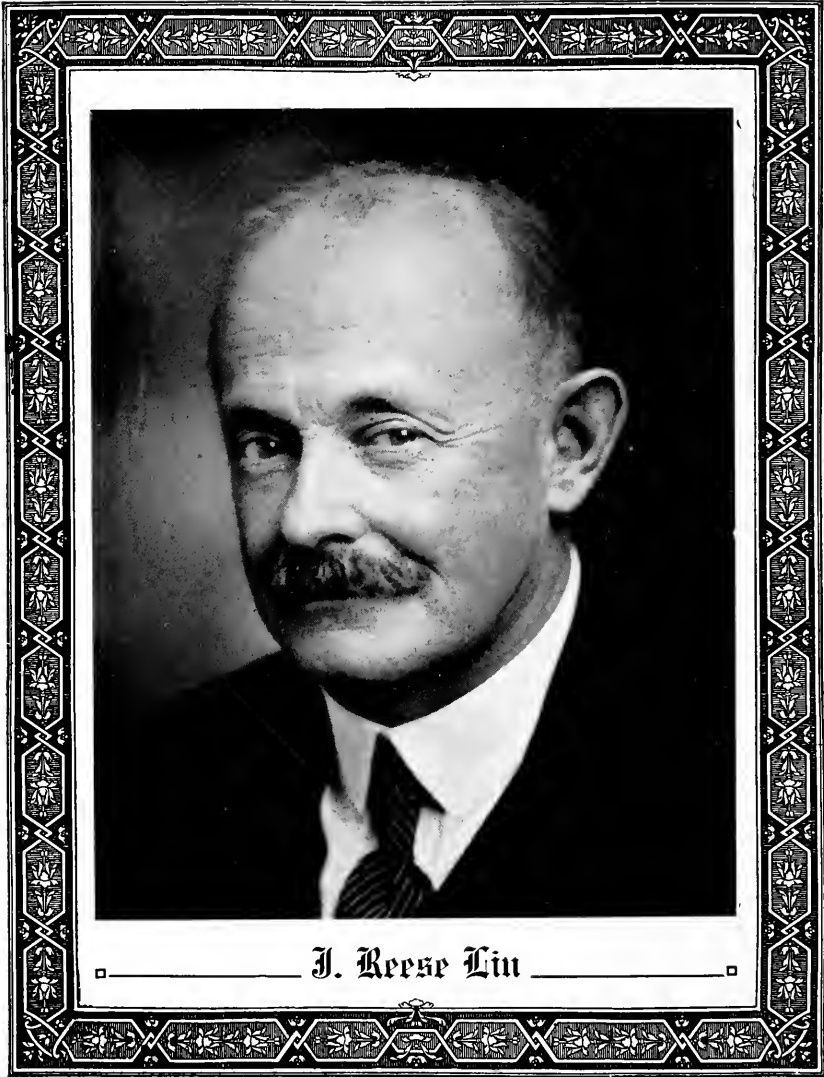

1926 Bobashela

and in its making, there will be one idea in mind—to give you a keepsake that you will be proud to own. There are going to be many innovations that will be radical; originality will be the predominating motif; the aim will be to make this as truly representative as the actuality; and through it all will be the feeling that some Token of Appreciation should be left to the Alma Mater. Neither the serious nor the frivolous side will be unduly stressed. There will be a mixture of sedateness and silliness, professors and protesters, flunkers and flyers, prowlers and preachers, brains and brass, intellectual and ineffectual. Not too much of the Academic will be represented, nor too little of the Athletic.

To what extent these ideas and plans will be carried out you will have to judge for yourself.

Dedication

This volume, The 1926 Bobashela, is dedicated to a man whose gentlemanly conduct, high ideals and ethical standards are an inspiration to us all.

To a man: than whom no other is more widely quoted by students of Millsaps; whose character is stamped upon the memories of all who know him; whose teachings remain vividly before the graduates of this college long after text books are forgotten.

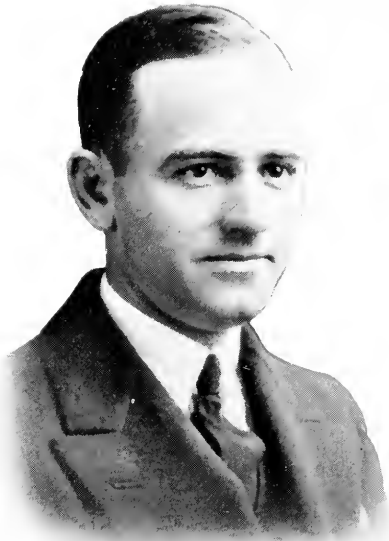

To this man,

J. Reese Lin,

this volume of the Bobashela is respectfully dedicated.

Preface

THE progress of time makes it necessary to change things. It was my idea that Millsaps had so grown that a different type of annual was needed to properly represent the College.

Much thought was given to the method of treatment—to the proper distribution of emphasis between the various sections. The final decision was "to start anew" as it were, to make an annual so radically different from the accepted idea of annuals that there would be a "howl of protest" from all sides (that was the actual result); and at the same time to build a foundation upon which much progress could be made in the future. This foundation is the training of various members from the under classes which will be available for the next Staff.

To treat in proper perspective things so close at hand and to portray correctly all phases of college activities in the light of actual worth would tax the ability of the wisest editor. I have given my serious attention to determining what to omit, in the limited space, and to weigh the importance of everything going into this volume. There are no apologies offered. The 1926 Bobashela is the best Year Book possible under the limitations.

Many students and friends not on the Staff have unselfishly helped with this work. I am grateful to each. To the Staff as a whole much credit is due. To each member appreciation is expressed in proportion to credit due. It is not my wish to unduly laud any member. However, I would indeed be ungrateful if I did not give them the praise which they merit. To Sarah Hester Legg, Associate Editor, I am especially grateful for her constant and unfailing assistance and inspiration. To Franklin Vaughan, Art Editor, whose invaluable work has made this volume so attractive, my sincere thanks are given. To his grandmother, Mrs. E. W. Featherstun, I am indebted for two excellent drawings. To J. B. Price, Sports Editor, who at no time failed to do the appointed task, I am grateful. Robert Calhoun, Junior Editor, must be mentioned as an able assistant and the "goat" for all outbursts.

When the time comes "that the dark of the days that are will be brightened by the light of the days that were," may this volume be reminiscent of memories that will cheer.

The Editor.

*When war shook the earth with threatening shock,
 The men of Millsaps stood like monuments of rock.
 Nor has the breath of Time
 Dissolved that proud array
 Of never-broken strength:
 For though the rocks decay,
 And all the iron bands
 Of earthly strongholds are unloosed at length,
 And buried deep in gray oblivion's sands;
 The work that heroes' hands
 Wrought in the light of freedom's natal day
 Shall never fade away,
 But lifts itself, sublime
 Into a lucid sphere,
 Forever calm and clear,
 Preserving in the memory of the fathers' deed,
 A never-failing fortress for their children's need.
 There we confirm our hearts to-day, and read
 On many a stone the signature of fame,
 The builder's mark, our Alma Mater's name.*

A decorative rectangular frame with ornate scrollwork at the corners and midpoints of the sides. The word "Collegium" is centered within the frame in a black, Gothic-style font. A vertical line extends upwards from the top of the frame, and a horizontal line extends to the left from the left side of the frame. A vertical line extends downwards from the bottom of the frame.

*I shall not pass this way again—
Although it bordered be with flowers,
Although I rest in fragrant bowers,
 And hear the singing
 Of song birds winging
To highest heaven their gladsome flight;
Though moons are full and stars are bright,
And winds and waves are softly sighing,
While leafy trees make low replying;
Though voices clear in joyous strain
Repeat a jubilant refrain;
Though rising suns their radiance throw
On summer's green and winter's snow,
In such rare splendor that my heart
Would ache from scenes like these to part;
 Though beauties heighten,
 And life-lights brighten,
And joys proceed from every pain—
I shall not pass this way again.*

GREENWOOD, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

G. L. S.; Freshman Debater; Preachers' League; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '25-'26; Secretary Freshman Class; President Junior Class; Student Conference Committee, '24-'25; Delegate Foreign Mission Convention, Washington, '25; Football, '23-'24-'25; Baseball Manager, '25; President Athletic Association, '25-'26; Honor Graduate.

"Love stops at nothing but possession."

Bealle hasn't left us much space in which to write about him. His list of honors speaks for itself. "Cyrus" is a man who is liked by men—and women, too!

GLADYS HOWIE

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Freshman Commission; Vice-President Co-ed Athletic Association, '25-'26; Three-Year Club; Honor Graduate.

*"Happy, thoughtful, kind and true,
There is no favor she will not do."*

Her manner is quiet but pleasing, and she commands the admiration of her fellow students. She energetically pursued any line of work that she undertook—and usually made it worth while.

CHARLES ROBY BUSH

K Σ

MACON, MISS.

Candidate for B.S.

Honor Council, '22-'23; Royal Ramblers, '24-'25; Science Club, '24-'25; Secretary-Treasurer Sophomore Class, '23-'24.

*"He cares not for the ladies; his heart seems
Oh! so tough! But some day eve he's ready,
Some girl will treat him rough."*

Millsaps has lost her one woman hater, for during Roby's entire time at College he was never bothered with the co-eds. He is a man of genuine excellence, and one we—yes, even the co-eds—admire.

ROBERT EVANS BELL, Candidate for B.S. Star, Miss.
 L. L. S., Treasurer, '24, Secretary, '25; Right Royal Ramblers, '24-'25; Buie Declamation,
 '25; Mid-Session Debater, '25-'26.

"Quietness is an indication of the ability to think."

Bell is quiet and unassuming; but when he speaks, he always says something worthwhile—anyway, one of our junior co-eds thinks so! May success be yours as a teacher.

ELEANOR COUGHLIN, X K, Candidate for B.A. Jackson, Miss.
 Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '25-'26.

"Love, goodness, sweetness in her person shine."

Never too serious, not too frivolous, just the quiet sort who never pushes herself forward. Her whimsical, pleasing personality will win her many friends in after life, as it did for her at Millsaps.

JAMES EDWARD BAXTER, Θ K N, Candidate for B.A. Lumberton, Miss.
 G. L. S.; Y. M. C. A.; Football, '22-'23-'24-'25; Basketball, '23-'24-'25-'26, Captain, '26;
 Class Baseball, '25; Honor Graduate.

"Manhood, not scholarship, is the first aim of education."

Baxter was known and liked by everyone in college. His dominating good nature made friends for him wherever he went. He has that easy-going disposition that few of us are fortunate enough to possess. He took part in every college activity—especially athletics.

C. C. COMBS, Candidate for B.A. Birmingham, Ala.

Captain Freshman Baseball Team, '22; Football, '21; Baseball, '26; Manager Baseball Team, summer, 1925; Golf Club; Science Club; All-One Club; Three-Year Club; Literary Council, '24-'25-'26; Editor-in-Chief "Bobashela," '26.

" . . . a soldier firm, sound of heart, and of buxom valor."

C. C. has the initials and facial characteristics of cautious Cal Coolidge, but we have something better to keep alive the memories of his associations. We will remember his devotion to duty and his genuine friendliness. This edition of the BOBASHELA is a monument to his ability, patience, and originality. Soldier, salesman, lecturer and aviator—then B.A. from Millsaps!

PEARL CRAWFORD, X K, Candidate for B.S. Jackson, Miss.

Secretary Freshman Commission, '22; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '23-'24-'25; President Y. W. C. A., '25-'26; Vice-President Science Club, '24-'25; President Co-ed Athletic Association, '24-'25; Secretary Junior Class; "Bobashela" Staff, '25-'26.

"Describe her who can, an abridgement
Of all that is pleasant in woman."

Pearl is dignified, loyal and sincere. She was always busy in school affairs, as you can see from the honors bestowed upon her. She was loved by all who knew her.

VERNON ELMER CHALFANT, II K A, O A K, Candidate for B.A. . . . Augusta, Ark.

I. L. S., Secretary, '23; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '24-'25-'26; President, Y. M. C. A., '25-'26; Honor Council, '24-'25; Chairman, '25-'26; President Athletic Association, '24-'25; Treasurer Junior Class, '24-'25; Circulation Manager "P and W.," '23-'24; Intercollegiate Debater, '24; Preachers' League; Student Conference Committee, '25; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25-'26; Basketball, '24; Baseball Manager, '24; Football, '23-'24-'25.

"Let us endeavor so to live that when we come to die, even the undertaker will be sorry."

Behold! Here is Arkansas' contribution to our class. "Gran'ma" took an active part in every phase of college life and proved himself to be a leader among men.

LEROY BROOKS

Ø K N

WALNUT GROVE, MISS.

(Withdrawn from College)

Football, '21-'22-'24, Captain, '25; Basketball, '21-'22-'24-'25; Baseball, '21-'22-'23-'25; All State Football, '22.

*"He smashed the play of a heavy line,
And did his best every time."*

His athletic record was enviable, and he was an all-round good sport. A candidate for a bachelor's degree does not mean that he will always be a bachelor.

AGNES HOWIE

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Honor Graduate.

*"Give to the world the best that you have,
And the best will come back to you."*

Surely this saying has been exemplified in this girl, for she is always ready and willing to help those who need kindness. In return for her pleasantness she has a host of friends.

WILLARD DANIEL CALHOUN

Ø K A

MT. OLIVE, MISS.

Candidate for B.S.

*"Who, if he rise to station of command,
Rises by open means; and there will stand
On honorable terms or else retire."*

"Willie" won many friends among the student body. He was always earnest in class work, and was of a rather serious nature.

WILLIAM WATKINS FORD, JR.
K A

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.S.

L. L. S.; Glee Club, '24-'25-'26; Vice-President Junior Class, '25; Right Royal Ramblers, '25-'26; Golf Club.

"He will relish a joke and rejoice in a pun— A rare combination of oddity, frolic and fun."

"Booty" always gave the appearance of perfect indolence and ease. His mind wasn't lazy, however, and he could clog dance with the best of the "Dark Brethren."

LORINE HERRING

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Honor Graduate; Three-Year Club.

"What's well begun is half done."

Lorine always has a smile and a friendly word for everyone. Her courteous, considerate disposition won for her many true friends at Millsaps. She is also one of those to finish in an enviable way in three years.

JOHN FONTAINE EGGER

II K A

DALLAS, TEXAS

Candidate for B.S.

L. L. S.; Capital City Club, '23-'23; Member of Cycen Fjodr at S. M. U., '24-'25.

"So live you that you will owe no man an apology."

Egger wandered off to Texas during his junior year, but we were glad to welcome him back to take his place in the Class of '26. He was a loyal Millsapian, but also a supporter of our "Sister Institution." Luck to you, boy!

LESLIE CAMPBELL GUNTER, Candidate for B.A. West, Miss.
 Class Baseball, '25-'26; Class Basketball, '26.
"Although not a Latin shark, Leslie attained the required mark."

Passing Latin II was not the least of his accomplishments. Quiet and unassuming, but a friend to tie to. A triple-threat man—scholastically, financially, and socially. May all three assets increase from now on out.

MARTHA BELLE MARSHALL, X K, Candidate for B.A. Jackson, Miss.
 Freshman Commission, '22-'23; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '23-'24; Vice-President Sophomore Class, '23-'24; Honor Council, '24-'25; President Y. W. C. A., '24-'25; Glee Club, '23-'24-'25;
 President Co-ed Athletic Association, '25-'26; Honor Graduate.
"None but herself can be herself."

"Marthy" was just the attractive, vivacious person we liked to be around. Always active and popular in college activities, but never too busy to have fun. She was a typical college girl whom everybody adored.

JOE ROBERT HARRIS, K Σ, Candidate for B.S. Jackson, Miss.
 President Senior Class; Capitol City Club, '22-'23; Y. M. C. A., '23-'24-'25; Pan-Hellenic
 Council, '25-'26; Football, '22-'23-'24-'25; All-State Second Team, '25; Baseball, '23-'24-'25,
 Captain, '26; Belhaven Club.

*"Happy am I, from care I am free,
 Why ain't they all contented like me?"*

Good ole "Joby," whose educated toe has punted more than one victory, whose grin has brightened more than one dull hour—we wish you all success as an educator.

JESSE ROBERT HIGHTOWER

K Σ

ITTA BENA, MISS.

(Withdrawn from College)

G. L. S.; Track, '22-'23; Class Baseball, '24-'25.

"All sense without common sense is nonsense."

Jesse combined both sense and nonsense in an enviable way. He is at all times a true friend, a good pal and a perfect gentleman. He made hosts of friends during his stay with us.

ELISE McCALLUM

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Basketball, '22-'23-'24-'25; Captain Basketball Team, '23; Honor Graduate; Southern Collegiate High Point Scorer.

"I hate to see things done by halves.
If it is to be done right, do it boldly;
If wrong, leave it undone."

Elise was a star on the court for four years—and wound it up in a blaze of glory in her senior year by breaking all the records that there were. She was studious and naturally smart. Quiet and likeable.

JONES STEWART HAMILTON

K Σ

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Capital City Club, '22-'23; Golf Club; "Purple and White" Staff, '24, '26; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25-'26; DeMolay Club.

"If it be a gentleman and a scholar ye seek,
you have found him."

"Jonie's" genial wit, his never-failing good humor, and his downright absurdity endeared him to all of us. "There never was another like him," and we're glad we'll not be here after he has gone.

THOMAS BASCOM HOLLOMAN

K Σ

ITTA BENA, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

L. L. S.; Secretary Student Council, '25-'26; Freshman Basketball, '22; Football, '23-'24-'25; Baseball, '24-'25-'26; Basketball Manager, '26.

"A happy disposition merits success, Fortune will take care of itself."

"Bo," the diminutive quarterback, was the type of man which really helped his school. A good mixer, an athlete, yet he always found time to devote to his studies, so that he graduated with a good record.

FRANCES MIDDLETON

Φ M

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Y. W. C. A.; Science Club, '25; Capital City Club.

"Know thy stuff and be able to strut it."

"I have a sociable temperament, sociable disposition, social sentiments. I'm just as sociable as sociable can be"—but that did not mention her I Q or the strong liking we all had for her.

WALDO EMERSON MCQUAIG

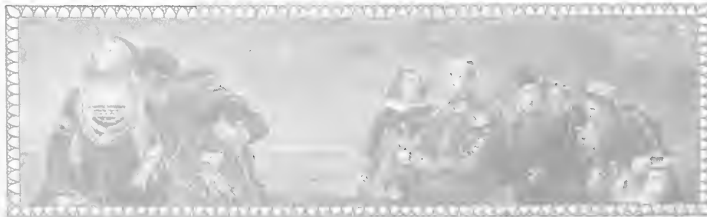

WAYNESBORO, MISS.

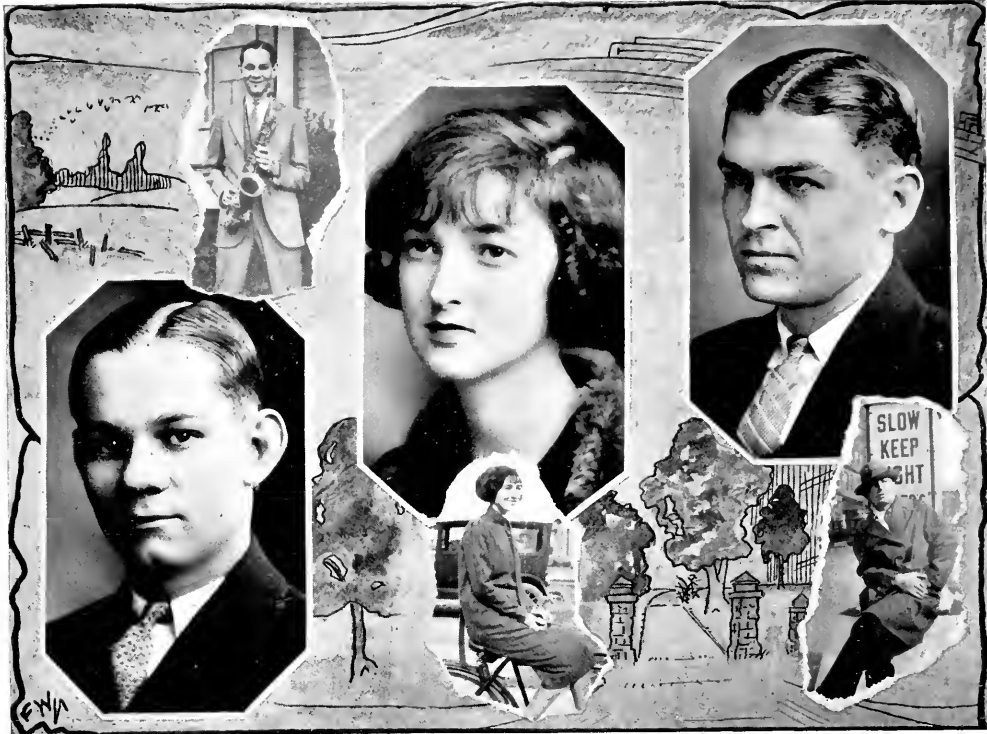

Candidate for B.A.

G. L. S.; Honor Graduate.

"Stay in the fight until the end."

Here is another of our aspirants for fame in the field of law. After teaching a year or more, he plans to study law at Michigan. He loved to "read Shakespeare and smoke cigars." He is one of our many classmates "who came through on his own feet."

VIRGIL PARKER MOREHEAD, K A, Candidate for B.A. Goodman, Miss.

L. L. S.; Y. M. C. A.; Golf Club; High Royal Sojers, '25-'26; Science Club, '24-'25; Band, '25-'26; Orchestra, '23-'24, Director, '26; Honor Graduate.

"It is not wise to be wiser than necessary."

When "Tony" ties onto the right end of a saxophone, he is happy, whatever the other inhabitants may think of it. A glance at his list of honors shows that he is accomplished in other things as well as music.

LUCIE MAE McMULLAN, X K, Candidate for B.S. Jackson, Miss.

Glee Club, '23-'24-'25; Freshman Commission, '22-'23; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '22-'23-'24-'25-'26; Science Club, '24-'25; Capitol City Club; Honor Graduate.

"I am as free from worry as a turtle is feathers."

Lucie Mae firmly established herself with many friends at Millsaps by her earnest efforts, sincerity and jovial nature. She was no book fiend—but when she studied, it was in earnest, and when she played she refused to be bothered with work.

DURELL DENLEY MARTIN, Candidate for B.A. Ebenezer, Miss.

"Be slow in considering, but resolute in action."

This minister's son plans, after graduation, to teach school, then to study law in Virginia. In college life the "discussion" parties pleased him most. Martin considered that the association with men of knowledge was one of the greatest assets of college life.

WAYNE DeVELLING HOWARD, Candidate for B.S. Ridgeland, Miss.
Honor Graduate.

"Nothing is denied to well directed labor, and nothing is secured without it."

We shall ever remember Wayne as a quiet, unobtrusive and determined student, who "commuted" from Ridgeland daily. He planned to teach after receiving his degree, and after that—well, he would cross his bridges when he got to them. But we, his classmates, feel confident that he will cross them.

LOUISE RICE YOUNG, Candidate for B.A. Jackson, Miss.
Basketball, '24-'25; Three-Year Club; All-One Club.

"If defeat strengthens and sweetens character, it is not defeat at all, but victory."

Louise was jolly, good natured and ever ready to help. She played basketball with the same determination that characterized the way she studied. Finishing in three years was not at all difficult for her.

JOSEPH EASTERLING SKINNER, II K A Jackson, Miss.
Honor Graduate.

*"My tongue within my lips I reign,
For he who talks much talks in vain."*

Joe did not push himself forward into the society of his acquaintances, but he had good lasting friends. He was a faithful student and stood high in his classes. Writing English VII criticisms in class was his specialty.

MRS. BETHEL SUTTON TEAGUE, B T, Candidate for M.A. . . . Jackson, Miss.
Basketball, '26; B.A., B.M., E.O., Grenada College.

"Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

We are glad she wasn't satisfied with three degrees, and we are glad she decided to get her Master's Degree at Millsaps. She played basketball with the same determination that she showed in studying. Millsaps was proud to have you.

EPHRAIM PEYTON JONES, Candidate for B.S. . . . Jackson, Miss.
L. L. S., '24-'25-'26; Science Club, '23-'24-'25; Capitol City Club.

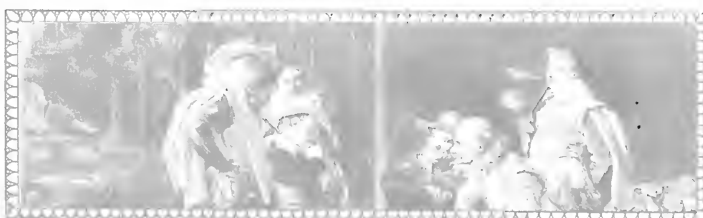

*"A modest man and master of himself;
Undisturbed while others fret and worry."*

Always wearing a bright and congenial smile, Peyton went about his duties in an easy-going manner. His pleasant personality, gentle temperament, keen sense of humor and courteous manner won for him many friends—both in faculty and student body.

LETHA ELIZABETH LACKEY, X K, Candidate for B.A. . . . Forest, Miss.

"No sweeter, dearer, lovelier girl with such polish and winsome charm."

Her voice was always soft and low, something to be greatly admired in a woman. The best wishes of the class and kind remembrances of the faculty will always be with her.

ISAAC ALTON NEWTON

SONTAG, MISS.

Candidate for B.S.

G. L. S.; Secretary, '23-'24; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '25-'26; Three-Year Club; Honor Graduate.

"He knows that the virtue of success lies in the struggle, not the prize."

There was seriousness about him that reflected his nature. The kind of nature that commanded our love and respect. He always did things just right, and was another three-year man to graduate with honors.

MARY NELL NEWELL

X K

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.S.

Capitol City Club; Science Club, '24-'25; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25-'26; "Bobashela" Staff, '25-'26; Honor Graduate.

"Beloved by all is she that freely shares With other folks her pleasures and their cares."

From the time Mary Nell entered Millsaps her motto was, "Nothing under the sun merely happens; things are done." A big heart and a mania for making the best of everything that comes her way are her best traits. No worthier tribute can be paid her than to say, "She was an easy winner and keeper of friends."

JOHN CREIGHTON SATTERFIELD

Σ T, A Φ E, Η Σ

PORT GIBSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

G. L. S., President, '25; Mid-Session Debater, '25; Centenary College Debater, '25; A. & M. Debater, '26; Blue Ridge Delegate, '24; "Bobashela" Staff, '24-'25; "P. and W." Staff, '25; Associate Editor, '26; Right Royal Ramblers '25; Science Club, '25; Bourgeois Medal, '25; M. I. O. A. Representative, '25; Literary Council, '25-'26; President Y. M. C. A., '26; President Student Council, '26; Honor Graduate.

"Every man has his gifts, and the tools go to him that can use them."

Satterfield joined our class in his junior year. The above list of honors tells the story of his two years with us.

JOSEPH BAILEY PRICE

Σ Τ

QUITMAN, MISS.

Candidate for B.S.

L. L. S., Secretary, '24-'25-'26, Treasurer, '25-'26; Mid-Session Debater, '26; Clark Essay Medal, '25; Student Assistant in Chemistry, '24-'25-'26; Literary Council, '24-'25-'26; "P. and W." Staff, '24-'25-'26; Science Club, President, '26; "Bobashela" Staff, '25-'26; Honor Graduate.

"The man who can calmly wait is the master of the situation."

Joe was a quiet chap with a wealth of good humor and cleverness hidden beneath an unobtrusive manner. His persistence, ability and absolute dependability will carry him far. His success in college will open unlimited possibilities for him in life.

MARGARET STEWART POWER

Φ Μ'

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Vice-President, Y. W. C. A., '25-'26; Honor Council, '25-'26; All-One Club; "Bobashela" Staff, '25-'26; Honor Graduate.

"Make the most of yourself, that is all there is to you."

Through her good natured friendliness, unobtrusive demeanor and splendid record, Margaret won the esteem of all who knew her. If a loyal character and a keen sense of humor are in demand, in her the world has a jewel.

ROBERT THEODORE PICKETT, JR.

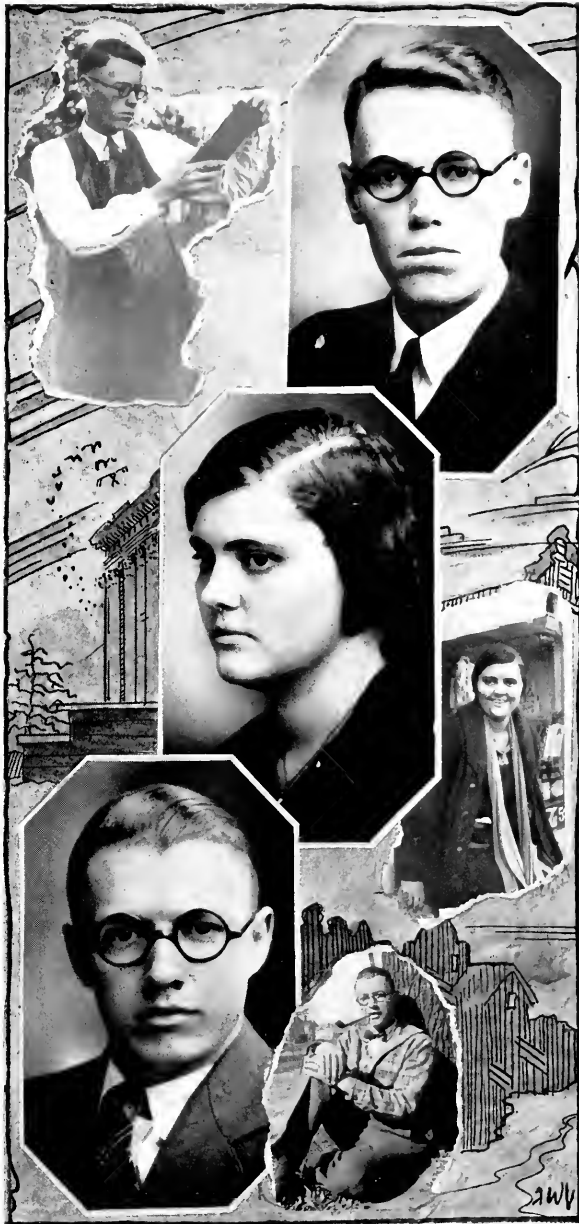

SIBLEY, LA.

Candidate for B.S.

L. L. S., '22-'23-'24; "P. and W." Staff, '23-'24; President DeMolay Club, '22-'23; Literary Council, '24-'25-'26; Glee Club, '22-'23; Science Club, '24-'25; Class Baseball.

"Believe in yourself and the whole darn world will."

He is going back to his former occupation of salesman. This young aspirant to a business of his own is quite a ladies' man. Ah-Hem! He was an old "Prep" student—and knew his way 'round.

CLIFTON ARCHIE TATUM, Candidate for B.S. Greenville, Miss.
 Student Assistant in Mathematics, '23, '24, '25, '26.

"The best and most important part of a man's education is that which he gives himself."
 It would be easier to tell what Tatum didn't do than what he did while in college. His talents found expression in activities ranging all the way from operating the "Grill" to teaching Math. What will Broncho do without him?

EURANIA PYRON, Candidate for B.A. Jackson, Miss.
 Vice-President Co-ed Athletic Association, '24-'25; President Girls' Glee Club, '25; Vice-President, Student Volunteer Group, '24-'25; Leader of Freshman Commission, '25-'26.

*"I opened the doors of my heart, and behold!
 There was music within and a song."*
 A jolly word and a smile overflowing with laughter from Eurania made you forget your worries, and you were smiling, too. She was ever active in Y. W. C. A., and was one of our sweetest singers.

MARION BEALL SWAYZE, K Σ Σ Y, O A K, Candidate for B.S. . . . Benton, Miss.
 L. L. S., Freshman Debater, '23; Winner Commencement Debater's Medal, '24; Secretary, '24; Critic, '26; Ole Miss Debater, '26; Birmingham-Southern Debater, '25; Football Manager, '24; P. & W. Staff, '24-'25; Student Manager Athletics, '24-'25; Science Club, '24-'25; Literary Council, '24, '25, '26; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '25-'26; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25; Student Assistant in Mathematics, '24, '25, '26; All-One Club; Dramatic Club; Mississippi Intercollegiate Press Association; Honor Council, '25-'26; Business Manager "Bobashela," '25-'26; Honor Graduate.

"Take it easy, have your fun, and let the old world flicker on."
 M. B. was one of the most likeable fellows ever. He was at all times a participant in class and collegiate activities. For three years he was an invaluable assistant in Mathematics.

FRANKLIN WHITE VAUGHAN

ELLISVILLE, MISS.

Candidate for B.I.

L. L. S., Freshman Debater, '22-'23; Orchestra, '22-'23; Science Club, '25-'26; "Bobashela" Staff, '25-'26; Commencement Debater, '26; Honor Graduate.

"Of talents in good things he owned such a store, You'd think where they came from there'd never be more."

Franklin is a quiet, capable fellow, and dependable, too. Look at the art work of this BOBASHELA! He is planning to continue his art studies as well as his literary education at Harvard.

DOROTHY PARRISH SKINNER

K Δ

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.I.

Girls' Glee Club; Freshman Commission; Vice-President Sophomore Class, '23-'24; Honor Graduate.

"The surest way not to fail is to determine to succeed."

Dorothy is a worthy member of '26. She is a good student and a faithful friend to all who were acquainted with her. She has a smile for everyone and never an unkind thought. Success in anything she determines to do is our wish.

JAMES HAROLD WEBB

O K N

NOXAPATER, MISS.

Candidate for B.S.

L. L. S.; Science Club, Secretary, '24-'25; Track, '24-'25-'26, Captain, '26; Football, '22-'23-'24-'25.

*"He is a terror in football,
And he plays hard, it is true,
But he also studies, as most athletes do."*

"Pole" was one of the most likeable fellows in college. He was at all times "puttin' out" in all athletic activities. With the determination that is his, he is sure to succeed.

GEORGIE MAY WATKINS

Φ M

JACKSON, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

All-One Club; Honor Graduate.

"For her heart was in her work—and the heart giveth grace to every act."

Georgie exemplified the saying, "The only way to have a friend is to be one," and she numbered hers by the score. We had evidence of her lovely, unselfish and true disposition. Her pleasing personality and quiet manner will make friends anywhere.

ROBERT CULLEN WEST

WINONA, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Tennis, '24-'25-'26, Manager, '25-'26; Winner of State Doubles, '24-'25; Class Baseball, '25.

"In all thy humor, whether grave or mellow, Thou art such a fine, ambitious, pleasant fellow."

West won fame for himself and Millsaps through the skillful way in which he played tennis. By his smiling face, cheerful disposition and accommodating ways he made many friends.

AMELIA ETHEL STAPP

HAZLEHURST, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Science Club; Honor Graduate.

"Least said is soonest mended."

Unlike most of the co-eds, Amelia was very quiet. She was studious, serious-minded, and never bobbed her hair. She was a true friend to those fortunate enough to know her.

VIRGINIA TERRELL, Phi Mu, Candidate for B.A. Memphis, Tenn.
 Secretary Y. W. C. A., '25-'26; Secretary Pan-Hellenic Council, '25-'26; Vice-President Senior Class, '25-'26; Honor Graduate.

"The sweetest thing that ever grew beside a human door."

"Fuzzy" came to us a stranger, but it wasn't any time at all until she was being voted the "Sweetest Freshman Co-ed." We could say a number of nice things about her "quality points" and her charming manner, but perhaps we'd rather just say that we love her.

WILMER CLIFTON MABRY, JR., Theta Kappa Nu, Candidate for B.A. Newton, Miss.
 Freshman Basketball, '22; Class Baseball, '25; G. L. S.; Y. M. C. A.; Science Club, '25; Pan-Hellenic Council, '25-'26; Track Manager, '25-'26; Football, '23-'24-'25.

"Rough and ready, but good natured and true."

"Hot" has the distinction of being an athlete that Millsaps was proud of. In time of need he was always to be relied upon with his enthusiastic spirit and inexhaustible wit to meet any emergency. He was a real "live wire" in our class.

KATHERINE TATOM, Beta Theta, Candidate for B.A. Little Rock, Ark.
 Y. W. C. A., '23-'24-'25-'26; Three-Year Club; Honor Graduate.

"Quiet and persevering, her goal she is bound to win; Diligent and never fearing, she'll go through thick and thin."

This is indeed a fitting description of Katherine. We were mighty glad to have Arkansas contribute this excellent student to the Class of '26. She won the respect and admiration of both faculty and students.

EVIE LEE WHITE, Candidate for B.A. Silver City, Miss.
 Graduated from Whitworth College, but wanted a degree from Millsaps; Y. W. C. A.
"Silence oppresses with too great a weight."

Having just a college degree didn't satisfy her. After trying the teaching profession, she decided she would have a Millsaps degree, because she appreciated the value of an A-1 degree. We learned to appreciate her in the short time she was with us. She says a great deal, but it is a fault to say a great deal that is worth while?

JOHN RICHARD COUNTISS, JR., K Σ, Candidate for B.A. Grenada, Miss.
 G. L. S.; Y. M. C. A.; Golf Club; DeMolay Club; Hight Royal Ramblers; Orchestra, '23;
 Literary Council, '24; Science Club, '24-'25; Tennis, '23-'23-'24; Honor Graduate.
"Too much study is weariness to the flesh."

John was a general favorite among his classmates, especially the girls. We know that all girls like a "handsome boy," and his beautiful complexion was envied by all the co-eds. His scholastic record was one to be proud of.

ERIE MARCELLA PRISOCK, Candidate for B.A. Byram, Miss.
 Y. W. C. A.; All-One Club; Honor Graduate.
*"Be swift to hear, but slow to speak,
 For some day, somewhere, our words we shall meet."*

Unassuming in her ways, considerate of everyone, never seeking the spotlight, Erie made an enviable record at Millsaps. If perseverance and loyalty to duty merit success, we can safely predict for her the realization of her dreams.

ERNIE HENDRICKS, Candidate for B. A. Beauregard, Miss.

Ruic Declamation, '23-'24; D. A. R. Essay Medal, '24-'25; All-One Club; Alternate in M. I. O. A., '24-'25, '25-'26; Honor Graduate.

"Courage and enthusiasm are two words Important in the world of accomplishment."

He was a man of industry, integrity, of high principle. He had an abiding sense of duty, from which the frivolous things of life could not draw him. His earnestness of purpose is an evidence of the success which will be his after finishing college.

HONORABLE ANDREW GUMP, Candidate for Ph.D., D.D., LL.D. U. S. A.

President Y. M. C. A., G. L. S., L. L. S., Student Council, Athletic Association, '24-'25-'26; "P. and W." Staff, "Bobashela" Staff, Baseball, Track, Tennis, Golf, Basketball, Football, '25-'26-'24-'25-'26; M. I. O. A.; Organizer Eta Sigma, Efficiency League, Class in Public Speaking, and Short Story Writing; Class Poet; Notary Public; Correspondent "Bolshevik Eagle"; Student Assistant in Mathematics, English, Chemistry, Latin, Greek, Sanskrit, Philosophy, and Spelling.

"Friends, Romans, lend me"

The only perfect member of our class! An athlete of surprising ability. A scholar of exceptional worth. A man of the people, for the people, by the people.

GEORGE EDWARD GREENWAY, Σ Y, Candidate for B.A. Laurel, Miss.

Freshman Debater, '24; G. L. S.; "P. and W." Staff, '24-'25-'26; Literary Council, '24-'25-'26; Assistant in English, summer, '25; Orchestra, '26; Assistant Band Director, '26; Winner "Bobashela" Short Story Contest, '25.

*"He murmurs near the running brooks
A music sweeter than their own."*

Behold the poet! Greenway is well on the way to fame, and if he continues to write good verse he can expect to see his name in the Hall of Fame.

SUMMER SCHOOL 1926

LAMAR EDWIN ALFORD, Θ K Ν, (Withdrawn from College) . . . Newton, Miss.

Clark College, '23-'24; Secretary Athletic Association, '25-'26; Secretary-Treasurer Senior Class, '25-'26; Baseball, summer, '25; Class Baseball, '25; Football, '25.

"Here's to the women—and other expenses."

Lamar's happy disposition and ever ready wit made him one of the most popular members of our class. About the only thing against him—some time at Clark Memorial!

MARY LUCILLE BRENT, X K, Candidate for B.S. . . . Raymond, Miss.

Science Club, '24-'25.

"A good heart is worth gold."

Lucille came to us after two years at M. S. C. W. She endeared herself to the Class of '26 in such a way that she will not be forgotten. Those big brown eyes had a meaning to them that kept one guessing. Our best wishes for every success will always follow our friend from Raymond.

CLYDE LEVERT ATKINS (Withdrawn from College) . . . Columbus, Miss.

Track, '23-'24-'25-'26; Baseball, '23-'24; Football, '22-'23-'24-'25.

*"Snatch gaily the joys which the moment shall bring,
And every care and perplexity fling."*

"At" wasn't on the campus long before he received the title of "Freshest Freshman," but that was just his way of making friends. He was ever active in athletic activities, and a man that the opposing players soon learned to fear. This fighting spirit will win him success.

SUMMER SCHOOL 1926

EUGIE EMMITT PRICE

STAR, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Honor Graduate.

"The web of our life is of mingled yarn, good and ill together."

They called the little town Price hailed from the country—but it must have been a mighty good country, judging from this splendid product. Eugie was an earnest worker and a loyal friend to all who knew him.

TEDDIE FURNAN READ

PAULDING, MISS.

Candidate for B.A.

Honor Graduate.

"The fame of a writer is transient, but the good works of a good worker go on and on."

"Ted" is a fine example of what a man with character and persistence can make of himself by determined effort. We predict that this ability of his will serve him well in life.

EARL GREY SPARKMAN

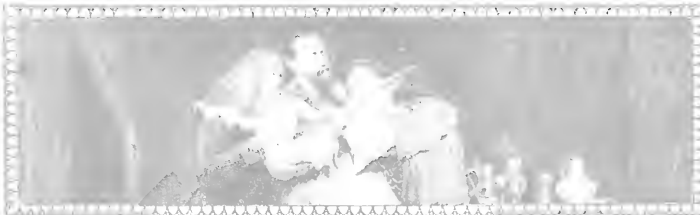

COOKVILLE, MISS.

Candidate for B.S.

L. L. S.; Science Club, '24-'25; Manager Junior Class Athletics, '25; Student Manager, '25-'26; Baseball, summer, '25; "P. and W." Staff, '25-'26.

"Everything comes to those who wait—therefore, why should I hurry?"

Sparkman never seemed to worry about anything, but always proved to be very efficient in everything he did. The class wishes you every success in all that you attempt.

SUMMER SCHOOL 1926

Candidate for B.A.

G. L. S., Vice-President, '23-'24, Critic, '24, President, '25-'26; Mississippi College Debater, '25-'26; Orchestra, '23-'24-'25-'26; "P. and W." Freshman Staff, '22; "P. and W." Staff, '24-'25-'26.

*"Work, and play, too; but one at a time,
And do that one with all your might."*

"Mack," although serious when the occasion requires it, takes an optimistic view of everything. He deserted us one year for A. and M., but Millsaps had so strong an appeal to him that he returned to complete his college course with his class.

NORMA MOORE CALDWELL

"Almost to all things could she turn her hand."

Versatile—that's Norma; a writer, an actress, an artist—these are just a few of the many things she did in college with such marked success. We are glad she came back to graduate with the Class of '26.

GEORGE AUSTIN WILSON

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Candidate for B.S.

Secretary-Treasurer Freshman Class, '23-'24; Secretary-Treasurer Sophomore Class, '24-'25; Secretary-Treasurer Junior Class, '25; Science Club, '24-'25; Right Royal Ramblers; Honor Graduate; All-One Club.

*"Many a woman may I admire,
But one sweet woman is my desire."*

George was dignified, purposeful in mind, making his time count for the most. He was an excellent student and we expect to hear about him when he takes his place in the world.

Historically Speaking

TODAY, May 25, the class of '26 goes out from Millsaps! We have come to the final parting of the ways! We have finished the course, and we trust that we have "fought the good fight!" That anticipation which began with our grammar school days has become a realization, and, although it seems strange, now that our ambitions have been realized, we find that we are not eager to leave—we hesitate to break the ties that bind us to our Alma Mater. We are loath to say goodbye to our friends; we are sad at the thought of not planning for another year together.

We are glad that we have completed the course required of us; many times we feared that we would be left behind, and we feel a thrill of pride when we realize that the goal toward which we have toiled for fifteen years is reached at last—to reside henceforth in two capital letters placed after the signing of our name.

It is all done, and yet, even now, at the completion of our Senior year, we can hardly realize that the halls of learning will see most of us no more. It seems to us that this Senior year has been unique. Under the leadership of "Jobie" Harris we have forged ahead in the highest of spirits. The football season particularly filled us with pride—and we will ever smile with joy when we say that it was in our year that Millsaps beat Mississippi College!

We shouldered our responsibilities gaily and we will long remember the pleasant work on the Bobashela under Combs, with Swayze holding the money-bags. It has been a good year for us—we feel—though we wish we might have done more for our college.

Was it only last year that we were Juniors! Freed from the cares and responsibilities of Senjoridom, it seems to us now that we must have romped the year away.

We started in by electing Bealle for our president, and then it seems that we went right into making paper flowers for our big parade preceding our football game at the Fair. The parade was the best ever. We had beautiful floats, lovely noise, and all the co-eds garbed in white. We didn't agree with the judges when they gave the prize to another school. However, we soon cheered up. We came back from the holidays with a "pass or die" attitude toward exams—and most of us passed. April Fool is "clean-up" day on our campus, and we got under way bright and early. We helped Mrs. Wilson plant flowers, some even plowed, we built walks, cleaned the tennis courts, and painted benches—to say nothing of clearing off the golf course. It was a great day—especially the "feed," and the athletic contests in the afternoon. Exams came at the end, and we eyed the Seniors with jealous feelings when we realized that they wouldn't have exams any more.

Our Sophomore year passed in a sort of happy haze. The glory of knowing "everything" fairly shone from our faces—and what a life we led the freshies! The days were long and full of fun, it was enough just to be alive and to be Sophomores. We "crammed" just before exams, and almost gave up over Chemistry, but we bobbed up again and went on our way. That was the year (speak it in a whisper) that we shaved the heads of the Freshmen. Yes, we "caught it" too—but the Frosh were the worst looking things—it wasn't so bad, taking it all in all.

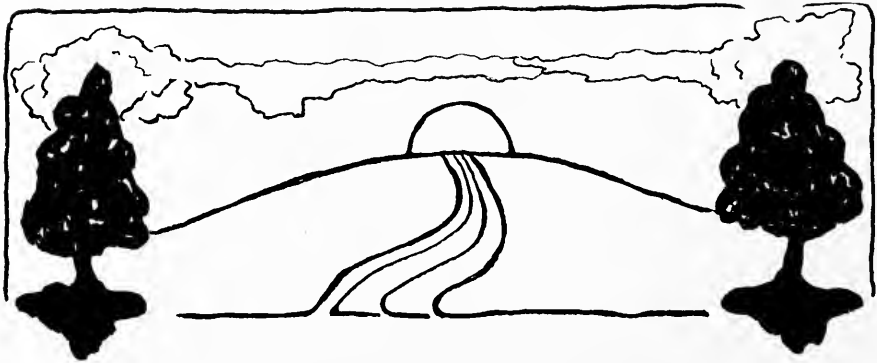

It's so hard to remember back in that long ago when we were Freshmen. It really doesn't seem possible that we were ever that young, and childish, and green, but memory tells us that we were—just as verdant as any class ever was. It was all so strange at first—we had to grow accustomed to the freedom of it all, and we reveled, and the Grill grew rich, in our "off" hours—which were blissfully free from any studious pursuit. We were "petrified" over those first exams, and we studied far into the night, and resolved that next term we'd study from the very first. It was after the holidays that we were favored with the loveliest snow Jackson had seen in years, with sleet to crown it all. The campus was a veritable fairyland, and the novelty and the sport of it fairly took us off our feet. With hastily improvised sleds we explored the campus and found delightful little hills, of whose very existence we had been unaware. The steps on the north side of the building were a smooth slide of ice from which we were reluctantly dragged inside to work logarithms.

When Spring came, and we realized that we were Freshmen no more, our joy knew no bounds—we felt that we had grown up at last.

And so, Alma Mater, we will always feel that we have "grown up" in you. It is you who have fostered in us those ideals of Honor and Duty—you who have taught us to work, and to play, and to have courage, and if, in after life, we do praise-worthy deeds, we will always remember that it was you, who gave us the Vision.

It is hard for us to leave, but in leaving we part only from the material brick and stone of your buildings, from the sound of the words of cheer of your faculty, and from the actual sight of your green trees. The memory of these things will remain in our hearts forever; and always will we cherish in the depths of us the Love and Pride which you, Alma Mater, have instilled into us!

SOME OF THE 1925 GRADUATES

- JOHN LEE GAINEY Lake, Mississippi
 Lee is principal out at Lake; teaching English, coaching, and making things hum in general.
- W. H. PHILLIPS Black Hawk, Mississippi
 Houston didn't say much about his doings at Black Hawk; but we gathered he is making out all right.
- KATHLEEN CARMICHAEL Utica, Mississippi
 Teaching Math. may be prosaic to most folks—but Kathleen is making it interesting in the old Home Town.
- GEORGE H. JONES Emory University, Georgia
 George was pastor at Columbia during last summer. He will get his B.D. at Emory in 1927.
- J. O. HARRIS Rienzi, Mississippi
 According to all reports "J. O." is teaching all the good looking girls—the first lesson. Johns Hopkins next year.
- H. W. F. VAUGHAN Emory University, Georgia
 Featherstun is another Millsaps man making a good record in Theological School at Emory.
- THELMA TOLLES Lauderdale, Mississippi
 What Latin "B" classes at Millsaps lost, Lauderdale Hi has won—a keen Latin instructor.
- WALTER SPIVA Gulfport, Mississippi
 Walter LAIMS that teaching Physics and Science has kept him from giving Private Lessons at Gulf Park.
- EMILY PLUMMER Jackson, Mississippi
 Football games, house parties, good times in general, in Pennsylvania and New York—reads Emily's diary.
- Q. MCCORMICK Wesson, Mississippi
 "Mac" is teaching in Hueck Consolidated Hi.
- WALTER GALLOWAY Lexington, Mississippi
 Hank says he's broke and not married yet—it is usually the other way 'round—married and broke!

An Admonition to the - Hoi Polloi

AS POTENTIAL Seniors, you have many delicious experiences in store for you, my friends. You will tremble with delight when you hear of them. Already have you become acquainted with the possibilities of a restful little nap with Doctor Walker; already have you learned what a veritable incubator of original ideas concerning broad-mindedness and unconventionality is that egg-man who paints his Willys-Knight every morning before Breakfast (he's the One you'll remember who made that wise Crack about the impossibility of using horses in the Drama during Shakespeare's time because the stage was just a little unstable); but, mes enfants, you are yet to learn the glories of hero-worship! Little do you realize what great men there are in the world, and right close around you, too!

Then, did you know that you can't always rely on what you learn at your Mother's knee? Ah! When you take the seats we vacate, you will be instructed by our logical philosopher that this is a profound fact. Why, Lee Hong Chong believed what his mother taught him on her knee, and where is he today? Plow your soil, sons of Millsaps, before you sit at the feet of this man and expect him to sow seeds of knowledge in your midst. And for the sake of the honor of your Alma Mater, be courteous and considerate of others; never, never by any means should you open a window when there is someone in the room with an overcoat on, trying to keep warm.

Have you become thoroughly familiar with Raymond, "the little boy over at our place?" If not, by all means make Red Harrel sign you up for Psychology next year, otherwise, the diploma which you may receive at the close of your course will be a worthless scrap of parchment.

Speaking of Red: Are you aware that Betelgeuze is a fixed star of the first magnitude with a diameter of two hundred and sixty million miles? Boys, take Astronomy and go over on the hill and break your necks learning such facts as these. They are invaluable. You'll learn, in due time, to convert sidereal time into mean time (if you live long enough).

Countless trite platitudes will be handed out to you. Hitherto, you have been forced to swallow what's been given you, like the proverbial little bird, but now remember, soon you will be Seniors, your eyes are supposed to be gradually opening. Therefore, we, the departing victims of this awful regime, earnestly and unanimously admonish you to look at what's being handed you; examine it closely; is it questionable? Ask yourself: "Will this induct me into the great society? Does this have a vital relation to any of the six great human interests?"

Now that our admirable legislature has put the ban on the monkeys, it wouldn't do any good for Doctor Walker to establish his vocational training for teachers, because you couldn't teach Evolution anyhow. Hereafter, we must guard carefully our thoughts or we will be so walled in by legislation, that we will be forced to go out of the state in order to think.

We are now leaving our dear old Millsaps. Yours will be the standard to hold, and may you hold it high! Let not its trusty colors drag the dirty earth. Carry on! Carry on!

Our departure is indeed a sad one! We want to stay but we have to go. It is like unto the flock of sheep which blindly hurl themselves over the precipice, those behind push the others on and they have to leap. The swarms of Freshies crowd the Sophs, the Sophs crowd the Juniors, and you all pushed us over! But you'll get yours by and by.

Postscript.

By an oversight I neglected to mention a fact which will, no doubt, give you joy. No longer need you fear of being shot at sunrise without praying for a rainy spell. The Dean hates to stay here with all the Seniors of '26 gone, so she is leaving with us. We trust that peace and quiet will again reign tranquil over the old campus grounds.

FRANKLIN VAUGHAN, '26.

*The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;
But do not dull thy palm with entertainment
Of each new-hatched, unfledged comrade. Beware
Of entrance to a quarrel; but being in
Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee.
Give every man thine ear, but few thy voice:
Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment.
Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not expressed in fancy; rich, not gaudy:
For the apparel oft proclaims the man,
Neither a borrower nor a lender be,
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.
This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.*

The All-One Club

There are many students who make high grades in their "hobby" subjects; but there are few who consistently make high grades in all subjects. In this group each student has done consistent and efficient work in all subjects, both liked and disliked. At the present time there is no regular organization; but rather a group into which each student, who does good work, is automatically placed. There is a real need for the organization of this group into a club whose purpose will be to raise the general literary efficiency of the college.

At times the Science Club was little more than a name. When Joe Price was elected President it was due to start on the up-grade. That has been true. The purpose of the club is to give the students, who are interested in the sciences, an opportunity to come together and study the relation between science and everyday life, in a somewhat different way from the regular class-room routine.

Lamar Literary Society

One of the organizations from which the debaters are selected. These two societies have functioned in the college since the beginning. This one was named for the L. Q. C. Lamar, one of Mississippi's foremost statesmen.

College Band

There had been rumors of a college band for ages—but in the Fall of 1925, when the pandemonium broke loose in Burton Hall, the wise ones nodded and said, "We've got a band." Later in the year, the student body came through with enough cash to pay for the instruments and to help pay a full-time director.

It is still more or less in the embryonic stage, but with Roger Philp as Director and the interest of the individual members holding on, we will soon have the sort of band that Millsaps should have.

Another long step in the development of Student Government at Millsaps College was taken in the Fall of 1925, when a Student Council was organized to take care of the non-athletic activities of the College.

Up until this time, the president of the Boys' Athletic Association had acted as the ex-officio president of the student body; and with the help of the Athletic Council had performed all the duties that belong to a regular Student Council. Under the old style of student government the co-eds of the institution did not enjoy the rights of suffrage; and when the women began voting in all other kinds of elections, in order to prevent a heated controversy, the eds of the institution decided to franchise the co-eds. There is another reason why the girls should vote, just as convincing as the universality of Woman Suffrage, and that is that they make up a large per cent of the student body, and contribute their share towards the upkeep of the Student activities.

Of course, as it is to be expected, the organization in its infancy has not assumed all the duties that will eventually be under its supervision; but even with just the establishment of the Council something was accomplished that will have a far-reaching effect on the future history of Millsaps College. This organization when it begins to function as it should, will do more than anything else to bring about an understanding between the members of the various factions which work against each other in the school politics. It should act as the go-between of the student body and the faculty, thereby helping to smooth over matters that would otherwise cause trouble.

The New Eta Sigma

In former years the Eta Sigma and the All-One Club were the same. In the fall of 1925, J. C. Satterfield conceived the idea of making them different. Pins were designed, ordered and adopted. The above members were organized into the Eta Sigma, taking the old name of the All-One Club. To be a member of the Eta Sigma, one must, among other things, be on the all one list for two terms. Eta Sigma under the capable leadership of J. C. Satterfield, is now taking its place among the other organized groups at Millsaps.

*"It is better to lose with a conscience clean
Than to win by a trick unfair;
It is better to fail and know you've been—
Whatever the prize was—square,
Than to claim the joy of the far-off goal
And the cheers of the standers-by,
And to know down deep in your inmost soul
A cheat you must live and die.*

*"The prize seems fair when the fight is on,
But unless it is truly won
You will hate the thing when the crowds are gone,
For it stands for a false deed done.
And it's better you never should reach your goal
Than ever success to buy
At the price of knowing down in your soul
That your glory is all a lie."*

Deportes Atleticos

The Athletic Association

Since the Methodist Conference lifted the ban on intercollegiate athletics for Millsaps College, the Athletic Association has been the most active organization at this institution. At the present time its active membership includes all the male matriculates of the College. The Girls' Athletic Association is an outgrowth of this organization, and it was only this year, with the election of a Student Council, that the business of the student body at large, other than athletic affairs, passed from under the control of the Athletic Association.

One of the most important reasons why athletic activities are indulged in is because it is one of the best methods by which to teach the individual fair play and self-control. This worthy purpose is rather ingeniously expressed in the motto of the Association, "B2." A condensed motto, but it includes all that could be written in a whole volume.

Millsaps College, from the very beginning of her existence, has always maintained a place of leadership, among the other institutions of higher learning in Mississippi, in the realm of literary activities. With the smallest student body in the Big Four, her advancement in the world of sportdom has not been so rapid; and it is nothing but desirable that it has been in this way, because when athletics gain the first place of consideration in the life of an institution, the benefits of the system are lost and it becomes a curse.

It has been said that Millsaps College has not advanced so rapidly in athletic achievement, and it is true; but this stage of advancement has been gradual, and it has been going on long enough to make itself felt. Our baseball teams have held the Southern Intercollegiate Championship more than one year in succession; and last season, for the first time after the introduction of football, five years ago, our deadly rivals, the Mississippi College Choctaws, went down in defeat before the fighting Major eleven. As a result of that season's playing, the Majors tied with the teams of three other institutions for S. I. A. A. honors.

With the growing importance of football, baseball, basketball, and track are receiving less and less attention. This decline on our part is to be regretted, for it seems that the other institutions of the South are keeping these sports up to the usual standard of perfection. Perhaps the main reason is that the Millsaps student body is not large enough to furnish material for more than one major sport. Be that as it may, it is the consensus of opinion that Millsaps College always has good material for the other major sports, and the reason why nothing comes of it is because it is poorly handled. It is practically impossible for one man to successfully coach the whole athletic program and teach some classes during his spare time. The thing that is needed more than anything else is a graduate coaching staff, a man to assist the head coach with every sport. One step towards the realization of this goal was taken when Mr. Ormond Van Hook was elected to coach the freshmen and to assist with baseball.

Another worth-while achievement of the Athletic Association of last year was the introduction of intermural sports. If the true purpose of athletics is to be accomplished, all of the students must have the benefit of the training. The typical American practice of picking the most robust physiques, and of giving them all the training is the wrong idea, as it tends to commercialize the sports. The reason why athletics should be taught with other essential things, is not because the institution needs to build a reputation through the prowess of athletic teams, but for the reason the students need the physical education. The method used by the English universities in maintaining athletic instruction for all, is by far a better plan than the one used in the United States. Millsaps College is gradually bringing about the proper reforms, and providing the facilities for the carrying out of that purpose; the new stadium, the introduction of intermural sports, and the construction of a golf course will all bear fruit.

It will ameliorate the condition if other sports were provided for those students who want to participate in them; for instance, wrestling, boxing, and swimming. The equipment for the last-named sports, with the exception of swimming, could be obtained very cheaply, and it would not cost a mint to dig an artificial lake or construct a swimming pool.

It is to be hoped that in the future development of athletics at this institution, more students will have an opportunity to get the training so necessary to their physical growth. At the same time, may athletic sports continue to be subordinated to the academic courses of the College. If all of this happens, it will be true indeed that, "Millsaps Makes Men."

The Co-ed Athletic Association

What the Co-eds have contributed to Millsaps College in the realm of athletics is of a two-fold nature: that which they have done alone, and that which they have helped the "Eds" to do.

Only three years after girls' basketball became a part of the Millsaps athletic program, the Co-eds tied with the three older and larger institutions for the state championship. In 1922, the first year in the history of the Co-ed Athletic Association, a small number of inexperienced girls raised enough money, among themselves, to buy a ball; and without the supervision of a coach, organized a team and played several games. As far as victories are concerned, this first season of endeavor was an overwhelming disaster for the Co-eds. Every team they played had little difficulty in running up scores, which were unbelievably high, but after all, the Majorettes gained more and better experience in defeat than they would have gained in victory.

At the beginning of the 1923 season, the faculty employed Miss Dickerson, a resident of Jackson, to spend part of her time in the supervision of Co-ed athletics. The team, much improved by one year of experience, surprised everybody by defeating the Co-eds from Clarke Memorial College, the first game of the season. Grenada College came down to this institution over-confident, and the Majorettes romped to a decisive victory, which gave cause for a rise in the estimation of the outside world for Millsaps Co-ed athletics.

Mrs. Calvin Barbour coached the team in 1925, and she deserves a generous amount of the credit for the successful record of that season. The Ole Miss Co-eds, Mississippi Woman's College, and Mississippi Teachers' College all met the Millsaps Co-eds, but they were unable to do more than split their respective series.

In 1926 the Majorettes won twelve of the thirteen games played, and piled up a total score of 563 to their opponents' 169. The only defeat was at the hands of the Ole Miss Co-eds, and it was a pre-season game. The Mississippi Woman's College Wildcats, heretofore undefeated on their own court, were easy prey for the Co-ed Majors in Hattiesburg; and when the team came up here to repay the visit, the performance was repeated. Regardless of the mix-up caused by the Ole Misses' refusal to play the regular scheduled game, a majority of the sport writers believe that the Majorettes had more than an even chance, and, therefore, were deserving of the championship title.

What has been said is an account of what the Co-eds have accomplished alone; but that is not the whole story, because they have probably done more for the institution by whole-heartedly supporting the boys in their athletic endeavors. When the girls first came to Millsaps as students, the boys made an agreement among themselves not even speak to them, unless on occasions of absolute necessity (you didn't know that, did you?); but now the situation has changed; the Co-eds long ago conquered the aversion of the boys and now they are taking the lead in a goodly number of the college activities. When the Major teams go on the field, or in the gym, the girls' cheering section is the first one to start singing the "Alma Mater." In 1924, when the Millsaps float, in one of the state fair parades, attracted the admiring comment of so many spectators, it was the Co-eds who deserved the praise; it was their dexterous fingers which constructed the thousands of purple and white chrysanthemums which covered the automobile truck.

Very often it has happened that football games have been played on days when it rained. Of course, the team is obliged to go ahead and play in spite of the inclement weather, but not until a very recent date in the history of the college has the school spirit been strong enough to force the spectators to brave the fury of the elements in order to give the best support. It is a significant fact that our sisters have proved a willingness to stay in the unsheltered bleachers as long as anyone else; and the example they set is one cause of the revival of school spirit.

When the Girls' Athletic Association was first organized, basketball was the only sport on the program, and as a consequence, only those girls who tried to make the team were directly benefited. Now, however, since the completion of a nine-hole golf course, and the introduction of tennis and volley ball, more Co-eds are able to participate in athletic sports. This development is very encouraging, and it shows that this institution is breaking away from that undesirable, typically American tradition of the specialization in a few major sports. If athletics are to serve the purpose for which they are fostered, and not become a curse to the institution, more students must be allowed to participate.

If this process of evolution continues with the same acceleration, the Co-eds will soon be the permanent basketball champions of the State of Mississippi, and they will vie with the boys for the place of leadership in the institution.

Tie for Championship in 1925—Won It in 1926

IN the spring of 1925, the Majorettes tied with the Ole Miss Co-eds, Grenada, and Mississippi Woman's College for the state championship. That is a record to be proud of, but it is not nearly so remarkable as the accomplishments of the 1926 season. The star forwards, Elizabeth Setzler and Elise McCallum, were the only members of the 1925 team who were available for 1926; but Coach Stephens found some good material and developed a team that won twelve out of thirteen games, as well as the unquestionable right to be called State Champions.

GRENADA COLLEGE, 10; MAJORETTES, 20

The first game of the season and played on the Grenada court, but even that early, before Christmas, 1925, the Millsaps Co-eds demonstrated a remarkable brand of team work.

OLE MISS CO-EDS, 28; MAJORETTES, 10

The first and the only defeat of the season. Because of a very unessential technicality, Ole Miss forfeited the championship to the Majorettes, by refusing to play the regular scheduled game.

BELHAVEN COLLEGE, 10; MAJORETTES, 47

The team from our sister institution played a fast game, but it could not solve the lightning-like pass work of the Co-ed Majors.

HINDS COUNTY JUNIOR COLLEGE, 1; MAJORETTES, 57

It looks incredible, but the figures speak for themselves.

CLARKE COLLEGE, 12; MAJORETTES, 52

A game that the spectators enjoyed, in spite of the overwhelmingly one-sided score. The forwards performed as usual. Mrs. Teague and Helen Newell always got th tip-off, and the guards did their duty to the fullest extent.

MISSISSIPPI WOMAN'S COLLEGE, 22; MAJORETTES, 31

Basketball enthusiasts of Hattiesburg said that it was the greatest demonstration of team work ever seen in that city. Elizabeth Setzler scored 19 points, and Elise McCallum, in spite of a sprained ankle, was responsible for 12 more. The whole team worked like a well-oiled machine to give the Wildcats the first defeat on their home court in three years.

BELHAVEN, 4; MAJORETTES, 84

For "long distance" scoring, the most outstanding game of the 1926 season.

DELTA TEACHERS, 14; MAJORETTES, 21

In many respects this was the hardest game of the season, and it is a significant fact that only one member of the team was in perfect trim; the others were suffering with light attacks of influenza. Handicapped as they were, however, they made up for physical strength with mental determination, and with the moral support of the cheering Eds, won another victory for the Alma Mater.

HINDS COUNTY JUNIOR COLLEGE, 16; MAJORETTES, 52

This game was an improvement over the first one, but the Raymond team was still unable to make things interesting.

WHITWORTH, 9; MAJORETTES, 57

The Co-eds went all the way to Brookhaven for this game, and that is all the opposition they got for the trouble.

MISSISSIPPI WOMAN'S COLLEGE, 13; MAJORETTES, 23

A bunch of Choctaws from Mississippi College cheered for their sisters, the Wildcats, but the Millsaps Eds sang the Alma Mater, and the Majorettes romped to an overwhelming victory. The visitors were good sports, and they played a good game, and if the contest had ended with the first half they would have been victors by one point; however, the Co-eds were able to carry on to the end and win another game.

WHITWORTH, 24; MAJORETTES, 53

The team from that institution came up to Jackson for a return game with the Majorettes and, much to the surprise of everyone, including themselves, they did better away from home.

HINDS COUNTY JUNIOR COLLEGE, 9; MAJORETTES, 62

This game, the last one of the season, was played on the Mississippi College court at Clinton. Elizabeth Setzler and Elise McCallum were the ones who did the scoring, and although they are small in stature, they moved like greased lightning. The work of Mrs. Teague and Helen Newell in center was of a sensational nature, and they were directly to blame for the low scores of the opponents. Linnie Lingle and Ruth Conerly would make the guard positions on any all-state team.

STATE CHAMPIONS

Football

MILLSAPS WON FROM CLARKE-MEMORIAL ON MUDDY FIELD MAJORS, 6; CLARKE PANTHERS, 0

As in former years, the Majors began the season with Clarke-Memorial College. On the twenty-ninth of September, the game was played during the short intervals between heavy showers. Mud and water were ankle deep, therefore, the most outstanding feature of the game was the consistent fumbling of both teams. Major Leroy Brooks recovered a fumble on the Panthers four-yard line, and scored the only touchdown of the game.

MAROON BULLDOGS TOO STRONG FOR MAJORS MAJORS, 0; MAROONS, 34

A whole train load of loyal, but heart-broken, Millsaps students looked on while the heavier and much more powerful Aggie team ran riot over the Majors, to the tune of 34 to 0. The team, as a whole, did not work like the well-oiled machine of the Aggies, although several individual Millsaps players showed up better than any of their opponents. In the fourth quarter, Francis received the ball from kick-off, and made the sensational run of the game. Probably the next important thing to the playing ability of the Maroon Bulldogs, as a good reason for the overwhelming defeat, was the exhausted condition of the Majors when they went on the field, they having made the tiresome trip from Jackson to Starkville the morning before the game.

LOUISIANA WILDCATS WERE EASY PREY MAJORS, 27; WILDCATS, 0

In the battle with the Louisiana Wildcats, October 10, the Majors piled up a score and demonstrated an offensive drive that was something new to Millsaps football. While the Purple and White line held "like a stone wall," the backfield went through, over, and around the clawing Wildcats to win, for the Alma Mater, the first Association game of the season. The Majors were unable to score in the first quarter, but early in the second period, Francis went through the line for a touchdown after the ball had been brought down the field by every conceivable method of football procedure. Gaines Crawford was responsible for touchdown number two, which came in the first part of the second half. Chalfant and Bealle, with the cooperation of their team mates, crossed the goal line two more times in the last quarter. Another thing which will stand out in the memory of those who saw the game was the sensational defense work of Charles Henley, Clyde Atkins, and Leroy Brooks.

MILLSAPS CRUSHED LOUISIANA TECH MAJORS, 13; L. P. I., 2

The Millsaps Majors went to Ruston, October 17, and won the second Association game of the 1925 season, by defeating the Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. The first touchdown came in the first quarter, after a series of passes from Francis to Byrd. The second touchdown, made in the last quarter was a result of the combined gains of Rouse, Francis, Chalfant, and Bealle; Francis carrying it over. Tech scored a safety in the first period, when a Major fumbled the ball behind his own goal line.

"WINDY" CRAWFORD AND THE MAJORS SCALPED THE CHOCTAWS MAJORS, 6; CHOCTAWS, 0

The whole Choctaw Nation, including their squaws and papooses, came to Jackson, October 23; pulled a big parade in a drenching rain, and that afternoon, while it was still raining, went down to the Mississippi Fair Grounds to fight with the Millsaps Majors. Ever since that eventful date, there is one deed that the Choctaw warriors have refrained from talking about in the presence of their people, and that is, what the Millsaps Majors did that day. And why should they talk about something that they want to forget? Major Gaines "Windy" Crawford caught a punt on the forty-yard line, evaded the grasp of "Big Chief" Berry, and ran through the mud, water, and Choctaw team for a touchdown. In spite of the downpouring rain, Major Jobie Harris, the boy with the magic toe, always kicked the ball beyond reach of the Indians; they could not bring it back for the lack of canoes in which to navigate the gridiron. When the last whistle blew, and the sun went down, the purple-clad Majors trotted off the field victors by one touchdown.

S. P. U. DEFEATED THE MAJORS MAJORS, 0; LYNX, 7

The football squad of the Southwestern Presbyterian University had the honor to be the second team that defeated the Majors. With a string of three clean-cut victories to their credit, the Purple and White warriors went to Memphis on the thirty-first of October with high hopes of adding the Lynx to their list of victims, but S. P. U. proved to be better than she was cracked up to be, and the Majors lost.

THE HOWARD BULLDOGS WERE DEFEATED MAJORS, 14; BULLDOGS, 13

The Howard Bulldog Squad was the fourth Association team to go down in defeat before the purple-clad Majors, in the race for the 1925 championship. The game was played in Birmingham, November 6. Major Gaines "Windy" Crawford's ninety-yard run for the second touchdown, and Francis' unerring place kick won the game for Millsaps. Mabry was the underlying cause of the victory, because it was when he knocked the ball from the arms of Bancroft, Bulldog quarter, that Crawford got loose for the ninety-yard run. Captain Brooks, according to Alabama sports writers, "played the sweetest game at end ever seen on a Birmingham gridiron."

BIRMINGHAM PANTHERS CRUSHED MAJORS' HOPE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP MAJORS, 6; PANTHERS, 19

The Birmingham-Southern Panthers shattered our hopes for the S. I. A. A. championship, Friday, November 13, when they came to Jackson with Curly Black and a brass band, to beat the Majors. Whether or not the unlucky date was responsible for the defeat is a controversy that will never be settled, but the work of Curly Black and that brass band cannot be denied. During the first half, Curly went through the Major line for gain after gain, putting the ball in a position where his team mates could score a total of three touchdowns, while that brass band played gleefully on. In the last half, long passes, Francis to Crawford and Brooks, resulted in the Majors' only touchdown.

MISSISSIPPIANS DEFEATED MAJORS FOR STATE HONORS MAJORS, 0; OLE MISS, 21

The so-called Mighty Mississippians, from that institution known as Ole Miss, came down to the Capitol City Thanksgiving Day to help the Majors wind up the 1925 season. By taking advantage of all the breaks, the Mississippians managed to pile up a score of 21 to 0, and as a consequence, called themselves "runners-up" for the state championship. This one-sided score cannot be taken as an indication of how the game was played, for Millsaps made as many first downs as Ole Miss, and had more individual stars. Gaines Crawford easily outclassed Solly Cohen, and "Pole" Webb handled his opponent with one hand. Jobie Harris broke the state punting record when, in the last quarter, he booted one for seventy-five yards. On this day nine men played their last game for Millsaps.

The Members of the 1925 Football Team

In 1925, the fifth year in the history of Millsaps football, the Militant Majors won four out of five Association games and tied with Howard and Birmingham-Southern for the S. I. A. A. championship. Here is a list of the men who were responsible:

CLYDE ATKINS, Right End

The best defensive man in the state. He will be missed after three years of varsity experience.

JAMES BAXTER, Center

A senior who made the second team of the All-State Eleven in spite of the fact that he was on the injured list for the best part of the season.

"CYRUS" BEALLE, Fullback

A hard-driving plunger, who never failed to make a substantial gain. In 1925, he played his last game for the Majors.

LEROY BROOKS, Left End

Captain of the team and noted for his ability to grab the almost impossible passes. He was an All-State man in 1923.

"TINY" BROOKS, Left Tackle

The heaviest man on the team and one of the most consistent tacklers.

"PUNY" BROOKS, Left Tackle

A 230 pounder, who was promoted from the Minor team of 1924. His huge frame was a bulwark of defense.

"GRANDMA" CHALFANT, Halfback

One whom the coach always sent in when it was necessary to make some long gains. 1925 was his last year, after three years' faithful service on the varsity eleven.

GAINES "WINDY" CRAWFORD, Halfback

Although 1925 was his first year with the varsity, he easily made the first team of the mythical All-State Eleven; and many sport writers said that he was the best individual player in this part of the football realm.

PAUL BYRD, Halfback

Paul looked good with the varsity this year, especially when he got loose and made a touchdown in the L. P. I. game.

JIMMY FRANCIS, Quarterback

Another recruit from the 1924 Minors and a triple-threat man who was a thorn in the side of his opponents.

JOBIE HARRIS, Halfback

Jobie's magic toe served his Alma Mater for three years. This season, although he was on the injured list, he won a position on the second team of the All-State Eleven.

"BO" HOLLOWMAN, Quarterback

For three years the lightest football player in Mississippi. He made the second team of the All-State Eleven in 1924.

CHARLES HENLEY, Right Guard

All-Stater for two years, elected captain of the 1926 squad, and a football player capable of making any man's team.

"KIRK" KIRKPATRICK, Left Guard

A good running-mate for Henley. The two go to make up what are known as the "Gold Dust Twins."

"HOT" MABRY, Tackle

An all-round good linesman, who flashed into the limelight for what he did in the Howard game.

"BROWN MULE" RAPE, Center

Rape was a substitute, and he did not get many chances to demonstrate his ability, but he is going to have an all-time job next year.

"SPEEDY" ROUSE, Fullback

A pile-driver is the best illustration that can be used in describing the ability of this man.

HAROLD "POLE" WEBB, Tackle

"Pole" played and "put out" with his finger in a sling, but he made the mythical All-State Squad.

"BRUTE" WRIGHT, Tackle

Although only a substitute, he played in nearly all of the most important games.

R. BAXTER AND BLOUNT, Ends

Two good recruits from the 1924 Minors, who have a good chance to make the varsity next year.

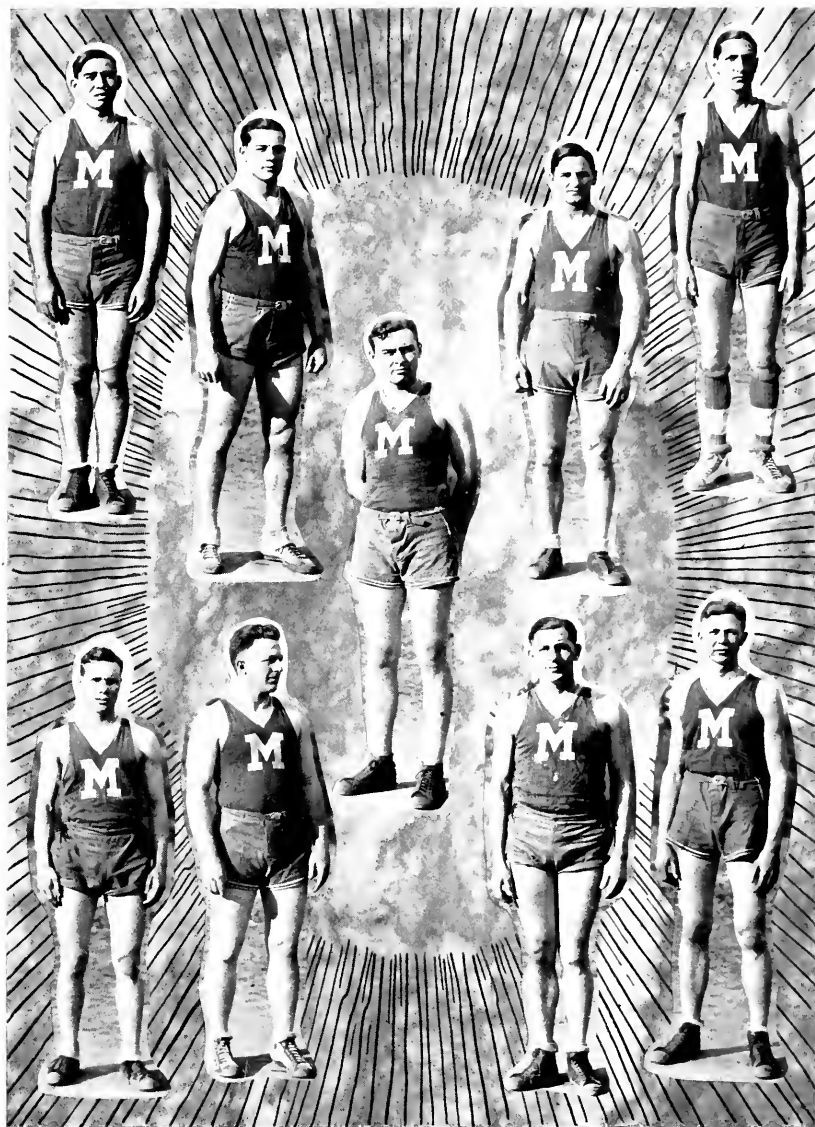

S. R. MOODY AND JACK WILLIAMS

Two men who tried for backfield, but they did not get a chance to show their ability.

"PARTNER" BEN

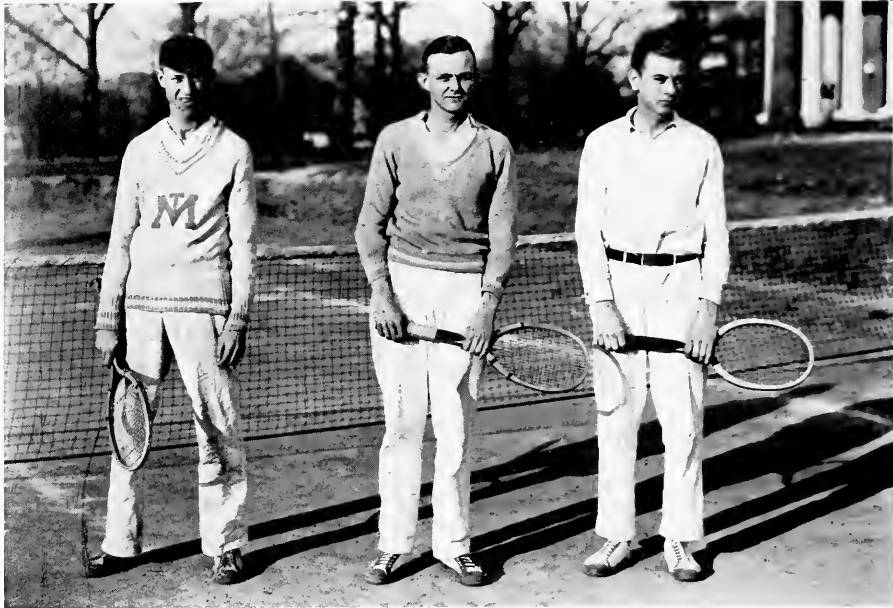

Combination Mascot and Water-Boy

He blames himself for the B.-S. C. defeat because he was too excited to tell "Partner" Crawford to "cut in."

R. Baxter, Byrd, Crawford, Blackwell

The 1926 Basketball Squad—The basketball team of this year had a bunch of hard luck; but with the experiences of this year and the material from the Freshman squad, next year can be looked forward to as another good year for basketball at Millsaps.

WEST (Captain), WHITEHEAD, GREENWAY.

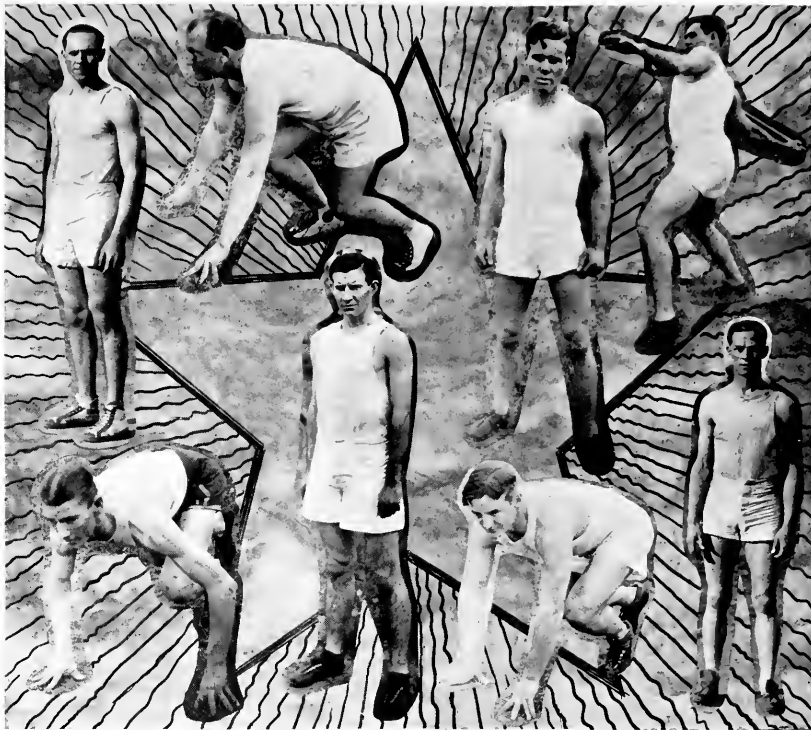

The 1926 Tennis Teams to Have Busy Season

In January, 1926, the varsity tennis team, composed of R. C. West and "Son" Whitehead, defeated the Mississippi College team in doubles. At the same meet, which was held in Clinton, West lost the singles contest to his Choctaw opponent. The freshman team lost both contests.

Professor White, the official sponsor and director of the tennis activities, has planned to carry the teams to Birmingham some time this spring to play with the aggregations of Birmingham-Southern and Howard colleges. The teams will also probably go to Shreveport, Louisiana, to meet the Centenary College raqueteers.

Before commencement week there will be another match with Mississippi College, and the state tournament between A. and M., Mississippi College, Ole Miss, and Millsaps will be held this spring at Clinton. Ole Miss may not participate in this tournament, because she has been outlawed by the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, but the other teams will meet as scheduled.

West and Whitehead go to make up the varsity doubles team, and West plays the singles contests. George Greenway is a substitute. The freshman team is composed of Cato, Hudson, Fowler, and Lewis.

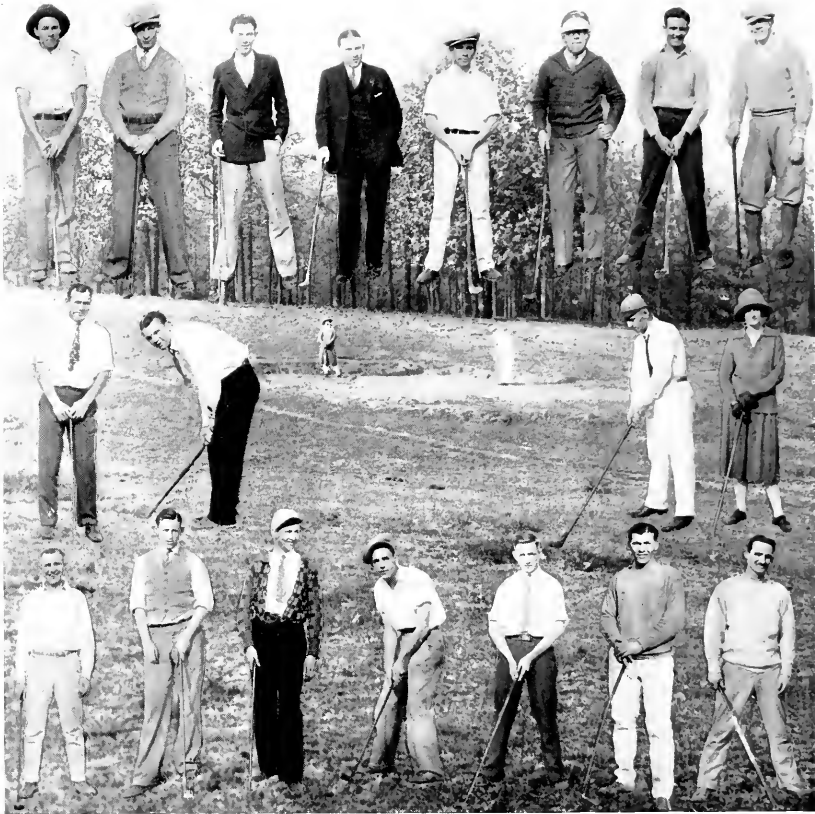

WEBB (Captain), HENDRICKS, MOODY, BROOKS.
FRANCIS, CALHOUN, CRAWFORD, HOLLOMAN.

Good Material for 1926 Track Team

If Millsaps College does not have a good track season in 1926, it will not be because there is not enough good material from which to select a team. Captain Harold "Pole" Webb, star shot-putter and discus thrower, is carrying his men through a strenuous practice period in spite of the prevailing bad weather.

One serious drawback to the possibilities is that the boys have no track coach; but in times past Millsaps has been without a track coach, and yet she has developed creditable teams.

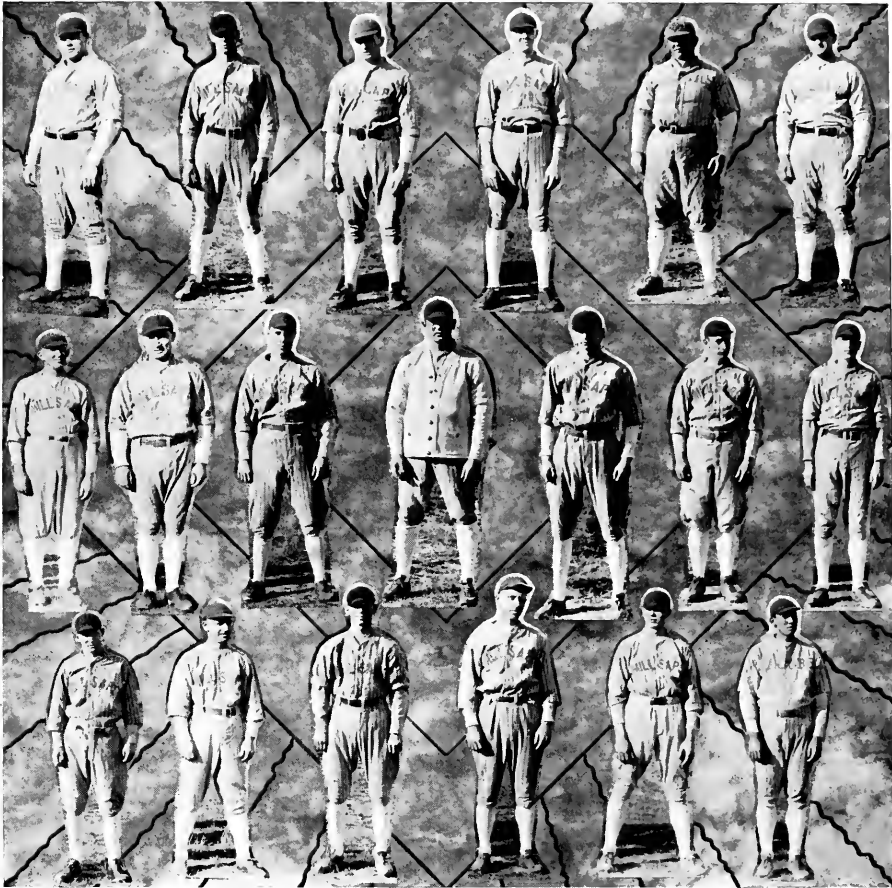

Top Row—TRAVIS, TEDDER, SKINNER, HARRELL, EMBRY, HICKS, CAVER, BROOKSHIRE.
Second Row—BEALLE, STACKHOUSE, COMBS, LEGG.
Bottom Row—HATHORN, SMOOT, HUDSON, ALLEN, MYERS, McMANUS, VAN HOOK.

Golf a New Addition to Millsaps Sports

For the last several years at Millsaps College, there has been a growing interest in all kinds of athletic sports; but unfortunately, due to the fact that only a limited number of students are able to participate in the major sports, the true purpose of athletics has not been accomplished. With the construction of a nine-hole golf course on the campus, in the spring of 1925, a long step was taken towards the realization of this purpose. This sport, while not too strenuous to be played by even the Co-eds, is thrilling enough to hold the attention of the most confirmed sportsman; and those students who do not have a chance to make one of the major teams, and some of them who do, have already become golf enthusiasts.

The 1926 Golf Club is composed of those in the picture and the following: Blount, Bolton, Barnes, Crisler, Babington, and Dr. D. M. Key.

Byrd, Holloman, Harris, Williams, Rape, Crawford
 Applewhite, Chalfant, Moody, Rouse, Swango, Gerald, Blackwell
 Fleming, Combs, Francis, Walton, Blount, Baxter

Bright Outlook for Baseball in 1926

The 1926 baseball team has not yet developed, but with the wealth of material to pick from, and the prevailing good weather at the time of the practice season, the Majors have good reason to be optimistic.

The pitching staff will not be incomplete. There are "Speedy" Rouse, Blackwell, Swango, and Chalfant from Varsity of last year; Gerald and Moody from last year's Minors, and Applewhite, who is a former Major. "Windy" Crawford is a good catcher, and "Bo" Holloman can be depended upon behind the bat. Jobie Harris (Captain), Jack Williams, and Paul Byrd, of last year's infield, will probably hold down the old positions. "Brown Mule" Rape and Francis, of last year's Minors, will be valuable infield material. The outfield will be altogether different from last year. Baxter, Blount, Combs, Fleming, Tatum, and Walton should be enough material from which an outfield can be built. Games have been scheduled with Howard, Birmingham-Southern, A. and M., L. P. I., and Mississippi College.

Standing—HOLCOMB, WILLIAMS, SMOOT, PORTER, BOUNDS, GUYTON, WASCOM, J. GREEN, COACH VAN HOOK.

Kneeling—DAVIDSON, LEGAN, O'STEEN, STACKHOUSE, BILBO, CAVER, HAND, BOLTON.

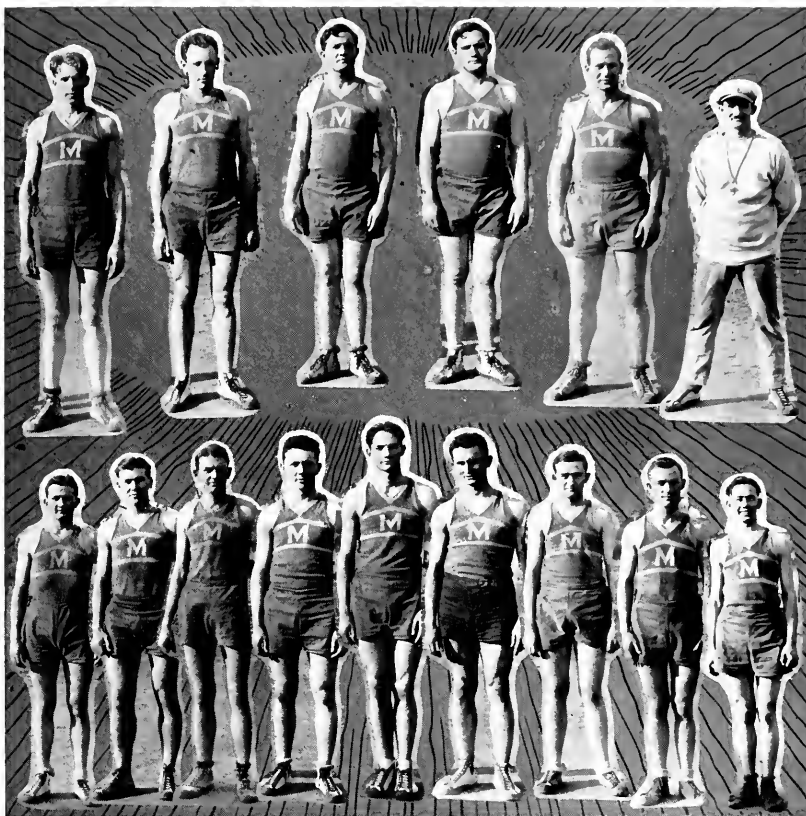

Sitting—RAPE, H. GREEN, McMANUS, ROUSE (Captain), FARMER, GORDIN, HOLMES, REID.

What the Millsaps Minors Did in 1926

For the first time in the history of Millsaps athletics, the Freshmen had the supervision of a full-time coach. Ormond Van Hook, an alumnus of the College, fashioned a team that trained some good material for the 1926 Majors; although it was too light to defeat any of the Freshman teams on the schedule.

The Minors opened the season with a 34 to 0 victory over the "Dummy" team in West Jackson. They then went to Starkville and lost to the A. and M. Bull Pup aggregation, 18 to 0. The other two road trips both turned out disastrously for the Minors: the Centenary first year men, the strongest freshman team in the South, won the long end of a 68 to 0 score, and the L. P. I. Freshmen of Ruston, Louisiana, came out on top with a score of 20 to 7. The next game and the last victory for the Minors was a 24 to 0 win over the Yazoo County Aggies. The day before Thanksgiving, the strong team of the Mississippi College Paposes defeated the Little Majors, 32 to 0.

In spite of this very poor record in the realm of college football, the 1925 Minor team trained several good men for service with the Majors in 1926. The backfield men: Captain Elton Rouse, Wascom, Bilbo, O'Steen, Legan, Davidson, Caver, J. B. Green, Stackhouse, and C. H. Babington. The line: Guyton, Rape, Reid, Bounds, Holcomb, McManus, Porter, Williams, and Farmer.

The Team—CARRUTH, WILLIAMS, WEEMS, WEEMS, ROUSE, VAN HOOK (Coach).
The Wrecking Crew—FARMER, McMANUS, HARRISON, RAPE, IDOM, LADNER, BAKER, GARDNER, ESCARRE.

The 1926 Minor Basketball Five Won 18 Out of 19 Games

Under the tutelage of Coach Ormond Van Hook, the 1926 Freshman basketball team developed into one of the greatest potential scoring machines in the South. They ran up a score of 852 to their opponents' 326.

The Mississippi College Papooses was the only team which overcame the Minors, and this defeat was avenged by three decisive victories. Series were played with Gulf Coast Military Academy, Hattiesburg "Y," Canton "Y," and various high school teams, none of which were able to win from the Minors. The first team always started the game, and as soon as the score was high, Coach Van Hook sent in the Wrecking Crew, which usually finished things up.

SUPER-POWER AND INDUSTRIES

Only a few years ago Massachusetts led North Carolina as a textile manufacturing state. North Carolina brought super-power within the state, and today North Carolina leads Massachusetts in textile mills.

Industries follow in the wake of super-power development, for an abundance of electric power is essential to manufacturing economy. Mississippi is the second largest producer of cotton in this country. There are very few textile mills.

Bet next time I "go-after" a thing it will be less work than this "Bob." . . . 759 hours work and a degree. . . . 867 (so far) hours' work and this masterpiece. . . . Boy, it better be good. . . . What I want to know is "How does Egg get his pants' legs straight?" Ever notice DMK? He's a fellow to tie to, though. . . . Ever hear this one, "A traveling man stopped at a farmhouse" These spring days—like to be down about Tours, Orleans, or even Romoratin—that Cher River valley is a thing of beauty this time of year . . . them days are gone, though—need another war. . . . Printers are a tough lot—apt as not they'll be beefin' about getting this on the page. . . .

Don't Read This

You've heard it before! "All eminent men have lived in hill country and walked a lot—I've walked a lot." . . . Quote your authority! Yea-r may be all right—but it's contrary to the facts. . . . Dirt-dobber always stings a spider in the same place. . . . I think we'll win this case before the Justice of the Peace—I'm the Justice. . . . Might as well try to fight the East wind with a sword. . . . aw right, give me your reason. . . . Intuition of women—hosh! . . . Just as soon read the diary of a fly. . . . She called it an Art Gallery, I called it a Chamber of Horrors. . . . Ever think about three snakes trying to swallow each other? . . . I'd just as soon try to dip the Atlantic Ocean dry with a tea-cup. . . . be just like capturing a centipede and making a policeman outa him. . . . Oh, say, do you remember those? Dreams outlast desire—so you better dream about getting this book. Going to Birmingham next week. . . . Engravers and printers beware! . . . Heard this one the other day: Flapper speaking, "I don't like to sleep late—but mother insists that I must." . . . Let me live in a house by the side of the road and sell Ford parts to man. After due investigation it is found that a stitch in time saves only embarrassment. Correct this sentence: "Let's go home," murmured the undress, "I never stay out past nine."

Local Activities of '25 and '26

As for the Co-eds, this was an age of transition from Bobbed Hair to "Charleston" Socks.

During the regime of Dr. U. Z. Hathorn, no less than thirty per cent of the Millsaps students lost their appendixes. Investigation of a current rumor brought to light facts which proved, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the College authorities were in "caboots" with the local hospitals. Under the supervision of a competent physician, the dining hall fare was adulterated with a concoction which immediately caused the appendixes to become inflamed enough to cause a desire for their removal. When it became necessary for operations, the students were removed to the hospitals, and Dr. Hathorn collected a handsome commission for his part of the transaction.

The members of the Millsaps Geology class made an important contribution to scientific knowledge when they discovered that Jonah made his trans-atlantic voyage in the hot summer season. This fact was disclosed when the petrified carcass of a sea-going whale, uncovered by the excavations on the new athletic field, was found to contain, among other interesting objects, a 1926 model straw "Katy."

Just before the Christmas holidays in 1925, the supply of chapel cards became exhausted, and it was not possible to get any relief for the emergency, so for several long and boring days the inmates of this institution were not allowed to attend chapel.

Shack Row, inhabited for the most part by the preachers of this institution, was the scene of many long and bloody struggles. One day two prominent preachers met in the middle of the street and became involved in a controversy over the constitutionality of the Ten Commandments. The intensity of the situation increased so rapidly it soon attracted the entire population of that sector of the campus, and the property of the College became endangered. Dr. Demosthenes M. Key, chairman of the institution, called the Faculty into special session and they obtained the passage of such legislation which was necessary before Shack Row could be legally fortified. As soon as it was expedient to act, the College artillery, consisting of one piece, was removed from its foundation near Founder's Hall to the roof of Mrs. Fadra Wilson's residence.

In order to ascertain the rank and standing of all fraternities at Millsaps, the Editor wrote them personal letters, to which they replied in the following manner:

Dear Editor:

In reply to your inquiry, we will say that this Sorority has at last succeeded in roping in more than sixty per cent of the Co-ed section of Millsaps. In order to reach this high mark of perfection, it was necessary to lower our standards of membership, but the results justify that action.

Lovingly yours,

PHI MU.

Dear Editor:

Please publish in your worthy publication that we are still in search of pledges for the 1926 season. If there is anyone with whom you are acquainted who might be interested in a bid, we will appreciate it if you will let us know immediately.

Respectfully,

KAPPA ALPHA.

Dear Editor:

In answer to your inquiry we wish to state that the fiscal year just ended has been a very successful one for us. After the expenditure of much effort we were able to persuade a goodly number of the 1926 Co-eds to join us, and as a consequence we are in duty bound to take in all their home-folks.

Yours for a better Sorority,

KAPPA DELTA.

Dear Editor:

This fraternity has at least succeeded in pledging all the outstanding athletes. In the future, as in the past, that will be our paramount purpose.

Respectfully yours,

THETA KAPPA NU.

Dear Editor:

Our scribe has been authorized to inform you that this fraternity is the most exclusive one on the campus, but in order to fill in a few gaps we will take in anybody.

Yours truly,

PI KAPPA ALPHA.

Dear Editor:

Our condition is hopeless unless you come to our rescue with a little publicity. By virtue of our modesty and the fact that we are young in Greek letter organization, we are bullied by the others, and beaten to all the best material.

Yours in hope,

CHI KAPPA.

Dear Editor:

We have had bad luck this year. Although we have tried to pick all members with regard to their inability and social standing, we find in spite of all precautions, we have taken in some who get along like "cats and dogs."

Yours truly,

KAPPA SIGMA.

Dear Editor:

Yours of February 31st received and contents duly noted. We wish to say in reply that it will be impossible for us to take a page in the 1926 Bobashela, if we do not get a cut, because our budget does not provide for such an expense. It costs so much for us to petition the Greatest Woman's Fraternity in America for a charter, and with all our other publicity schemes on foot, it will just be out of the question for us to be represented unless you donate the page without any cost to us.

Yours with regrets,

BETA TAU.

Students of Pliny—Observe!

When one considers how the time passes at Millsaps, one cannot be surprised that, take any single day, and it either is, or at least seems to be, spent reasonably enough; and yet, upon casting up the whole sum, the amount will appear quite otherwise.

Ask anyone, "What have you been doing today?" He will tell you, perhaps—"I have been putting on a feast; I have attended two classes; one fellow begged me to be his second at a bull session; another to answer for him at class; a third called me to read a choice one from the Whiz Bang." These things seem important enough whilst one is about them; yet, when you reflect at your leisure, that every day has been thus employed, they seem mere trifles. At such a time one is apt to say to oneself, "How much of my life I have frittered away in dull, useless routine." At least it is the reflection which frequently comes across me at the Edwards, after I have been doing a little reading and writing, and taking care of the animal machine down in the coffee room. There I neither hear nor speak anything I have occasion to be sorry for. No one talks scandal to me, and I find fault with nobody, unless myself. There I stay undisturbed by rumor and free from the prying eyes of the "profs." conversing only with my notes, telephone numbers and chance pickups. True and genuine life! Sweet and honorable repose! More, perhaps, to be desired than employments of any kind! Thou solemn mezzanine and solitary nook, true and most convenient school of fun, beauty and pleasure, many happy thoughts do you inspire in me! Snatch, then, my friend, as I have, the first opportunity of leaving school with its din, its empty bustle and laborious trifles, and devote your days to pleasure or to repose, for as my friend Oakey happily observed, "It is better to hold a full house than to bluff on nothing." Vale—that is to say . . . Farewell!

Here and There

Venice probably has the biggest floating population of any city in the world. . . . Things that never happen: Any woman taking the blame for an auto accident or any other mistake; any woman being silent for long. . . . Parks hold more tragedy than prisons. . . . Beyond a doubt the prize nitwit is the customer who looks over your shoulder when you are writing. . . . No where on earth is there more beauty among the fair sex than in the movie—ads. . . . A la Walt Mason: Me—I am always broke—wonder how that bloke with plenty of jack—always seems to be in line—when I go out to dine? And gets the best table—when I am led to the back of the stable—where none of the pretty girls ever trip by with tossing curls? . . . The Editor's daily half dozen: Eat—work—eat; work—eat—sleep. . . . English: The Science of Unlearning our native vernacular. . . . Be fine to be down in Miami now. . . . Latin: Wondering what it all means . . . Liquid measure: Two pints make one quart—one quart makes two—wild. . . . Anyone who says that America produces no extreme imaginative writing doesn't read the output of Chamber of Commerce secretaries. . . . There is this difference between the theater and a Latin class, in the former the front seats bring the higher prices—in the latter the back ones are the prized ones. . . . These modern girls: They are so modest! And use such nice language! . . . Provincialism is the thing which blinds the local eye to the progress and wonders of the outside world. . . . A Chinese maxim says: Too fat—too dull; too lean—too sour. . . . Oh, well—"In principio mulier est hominis confusio" (attention: Hambone), or in the w k vernacular, "Woman is man's living pain." . . . Vale.

Reading over this week's P. & W. looks like those boys are letting Judge do it for them . . . Hambone says he is going to bust me in Latin Two—don't see how he can do it if I don't go to his classes . . . This McNair boy is getting lots of satisfaction outa being pulled before the Faculty—some one said they'd not done him justice (Wonder who'll get that?) . . . You know if that M. B. Swayze would have hustled about a bit I would not be wasting all this space like this . . . Suppose I should borrow the "cut" of Professor Hooker from P. & W. and run it here—but he's had publicity enough . . . This Beta Tau bunch is about the only outfit which needs any publicity—they are so averse to it . . . Remember that little songtitle, "Cheer Up Boys, There Ain't No Hell"? . . . I hadn't gotten out a Bobashela at that time . . . Started to run one of my short stories in this—but thought of the preceding ones, and vetoed the idea . . . Campus looks mighty nice now—reminds me of Central Park—when I used to sleep there—Egg asked me the other day where the Bowery was—he must think I've lived there since he did . . . Bet Zimmie will be glad when I quit worrying this so-called typewriter at late hours—but fifteen hours is enough sleep for him . . . This Bowl of ours is going to be keen—when it is washed across West Street . . . The Happiest Girl in college is out of town—I have to stay up late—alone . . . Miami, Pittsburgh, Shreveport, N. Y. C., Birmingham, Mobile and Lubbock—how in the world will I ever make 'em this summer? . . . Ever hear of Washington Wilkes?—then you're from Georgia . . . Tried to get to Red's Night-Club and fell in the dad-basted ditch—time some Senior Class was Memorialing some steps over there . . . UZ might have run himself half to death looking for a two-bit piece—but this college is profiting by it . . . Just a few more days . . . Sleepiest little town in the world—Mandeville—Restful—ye gods . . . These students who laugh at the professor's jokes—you'll note they always make the highest grades . . . Seven years ago today—parley-voing about France . . . Ducky has told 'em all—but the one about the old fellow, who looked to be about 85 years old, crying because his father slapped him for sassin' his grand-dad . . . This so-called baseball team is trying to run up an all-time error record . . . Must be nice to be thru—I am going to try it.

Just making a rough guess I'll bet that Old Man N. Webster was glad when he had finished writing his classical work—"Words and Some Meanings." Anyway, this is being written with a lot of relief. Seems to me that I wrote something in the "Preface" or somewhere, what a lot of help the Staff had been, et cetera—especially the cetera . . . But now, when it comes to this, I am ALONE—alone to answer all the thousands of questions about "when will it be out?" The Associate Editor is planning to get out a better book next year. The others are doing various things. Old MB will still have to fight for the money to pay for all this—and I envy him not his job. Speaking of next year: I hope that the coming Senior class will co-operate with the Editor-Elect and I know that Miss Legg will get out a good annual. Glad this College is getting far enough away from petty jealousy and prejudice to elect a girl as Editor. Miss Legg, you have an honor no other girl will ever have at Millsaps—the First Co-Ed Editor! Outa this job some hours should be rated—wonder if the Faculty will "know enough" to give them to me. Studying a little now—this Cena Trimalchionis is hot stuff. Going to Paris summer after next—may drop down in Rome and send you coming Latin sharks a picture-card of that "Do as Romans Do" place. This thing, leaving college, gets a funny feeling going inside you. Joe Price has been writing about Spring—boy must be bugs—need an overcoat today. This "Charleston" thing they are doing—saw-mill niggers used to dance that for me, years and years ago. Rather curious to note that the dances, songs and talk seems to be sinking to that level. To the Coming Students of Millsaps: Try thinking a bit—maybe you'll get accustomed to it!

C. C. COMBS: Himself.
